PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

PLAN 2000 INVESTING IN LAPD

★ ★ ★ by Ted Hunt ★ ★ ★

Part of the reason that the City of Los Angeles has grown into the most important city in the western United States is the Los Angeles Police Department. Our Department has kept the Los Angeles vicinity free from the crime and corruption associated with the major cities to the east.

LAPD has traditionally been "THE" World Class Police Department, the police agency to which all others aspire. The result of the excellence of LAPD's operations were a City with a low crime rate, a livable City, a family friendly City.

But so much has changed. The City is at a crossroads and its leaders, the Mayor, the City Council, and the Police Commission have tough decisions to make. Are they going to invest in the City by investing in the first responsibility of any government—the safety of the public? Are they going to invest in rebuilding LAPD?

LAPD is once again experiencing a severe attrition problem. The attrition problem is compounded by an inability of LAPD to attract new employees. The inability to recruit people to LAPD threatens the loss of a substantial federal grant.

In addition to the inability of LAPD to recruit people, high quality, tenured employees are leaving our Department in record numbers. An analysis of our data shows that the losses come from two general categories:

- A. Officers with 25 to 30 years on the job
- B. Officers with 5 to 10 years on the job

All of us know that a brand new officer is not cost effective until they have about five years on the job. We also know the extremely high value of tenured officers—those veterans we are losing. To lose officers from either of these ranges is a heavy hit to the "backbone" of the Department.

In simple terms, the Department and the City cannot afford to continue to lose these officers. Something must be done to keep them from leaving. Group "A" are the experienced "masters" and Group "B" are the "experienced journeymen" who will be tomorrow's masters. These people are the NOW and the FUTURE.

LAPD and this City must do something to stem the tide of retirements and officers leaving for surrounding Departments. Several things must change.

First, the pay of police officers must be raised to be competitive with the surrounding agencies. Officers frequently say something like, "I love LAPD, I want to stay but I've got a family to feed. We get paid less than other departments and we get no overtime. I want to stay but I can't afford to." The City of Los Angeles will get what it pays for. This is a business decision. Is public safety the most important concern of government? If not what is? We must get a significant pay raise.

Second, the Department must offer benefits comparable to other agencies such as a compressed work schedule. CWS is available at every other agency in this area. LAPD is the only agency that we know of which doesn't have a compressed work schedule. LAPD can't compete with neighboring police agencies which offer better pay and CWS. This is a business decision. If CWS saves the City

LAPD Recruitment Falls Short

A massive recruitment campaign is underway to recruit candidates to join the Department. A recent Civil Service Commission report revealed that the City is struggling with its hiring of police officers. The report stated that the month to reach the federal grant program hiring goal, and only 25 to 30 are being hired. The Department is recruiting out-of-state candidates and developing other programs to increase the ranks of the Department. There is a total of $8 million dollars in federal money at risk if the Department does not meet the hiring goal. It is well known that many law enforcement agencies are currently recruiting candidates to fill the ranks. The LASO has a plan to hire 1000 new deputies and the Department has recently expanded its recruitment activities and increased its staff. There is now consideration being given to further shortening the process of hiring police candidates. The report illustrated that for the balance of this fiscal year, which ends in June 2000, 80 to 90 officers need to be hired per

Sheriff Lee Baca, Erik Estrada, Director Dennis P. Zine and KRLA Radio Host Kenny Morris with Holiday Radio Program.

CHP is on a recruitment drive. Smaller departments in the southland are also hiring. With this rush to hire officers, the competition is tough. While many departments offer a compressed work schedule, a 90% pension at 30 years of service, a fair disciplinary policy and many other positive incentives, we are way behind the curve at the LAPD. It's time for our Department to wake up and become competitive with other agencies before all the qualified candidates are gone and the federal money is returned to the bureaucrats in Washington, D.C.

National League of Cities Was a Big Success

I wish to thank those delegates and members who assisted us with our booth at the National League of Cities Convention which was recently held at the Convention Center. The City leaders from Los Angeles and across the country were very impressed with our operation and appreciative of the celebrity photos we provided.

Democratic National Convention Update

The Democratic National Convention will serve as a great P.R. opportunity for Los Angeles. Convention organizers estimate that the convention will bring $150 to $190 million in direct economic benefits to the City. The Convention, which runs from August 14 to 17, will occupy 18,000 rooms in 78 hotels. It will draw 5,000 delegates, 15,000 media representatives and 30,000 visitors, guests and corporate executives who will all be

BRIDGE TO THE FUTURE

KEN HILLMAN, SECRETARY

Supervisory and Management Actions Can Make a Difference

Everyone on the Department will agree that the Rampart Area scandal is one of the two most embarrassing issues to hit this Department in the latter half of this century. As a result of the nefarious activities of a few rogue officers, the entire Department's image has once again been tarnished. I recognize the Department's need for moving quickly and assembling a Board of Inquiry (BOI) to study management practices relative to the review of arrests, uses of force, pursuits, supervisory oversight of specialized units, audits and controls. Based on the findings of the BOI, we can expect sweeping reforms in how the Department reviews arrest reports, investigates officer involved shootings, audits personnel and tracks evidence. Having worked on one segment of the BOI, many of the changes recommended are necessary to restore the public's confidence in our ability to police their communities and to safeguard the Department from future felonious acts of a few misguided officers.

In moving past this dark blemish in our history, it is critical that we, the men and women of the Los Angeles Police Department, act responsibly with honesty and integrity in all aspects of our lives—both personal and professional. Never in the history of this Department has it become more important for those in leadership positions from the rank of Police Officer II to Lieutenant, to stand up and be counted as leaders. This does not mean dropping the ax on everyone who commits an error in judgement, or over-disciplining personnel on minor acts of misconduct to prove who is in control. Poor decisions at this time can translate into unhappy work places, excessive absenteeism, workers' compensation claims, disability retirements and divorces. The typically conscientious nature of police officers is such that, at least psychologically, our employees do take their problems home with them—remember, they have enough daily concerns without problems unnecessarily created by poor leadership.

Several years ago, I sat through a leadership class presented by Keith Bushey, retired LAPD Commander. He reminded attendees that supervisors at all ranks have a phenomenal impact on the lives of our employees. This makes it critical that we recognize the solemn responsibility all of us have to continue our professional development and education, especially in the areas of leadership. The men and women we are privileged to supervise deserve nothing less. I want to encourage those who supervise others to be open minded regarding your level of proficiency and to recognize a continuing opportunity for improvement. To assist you, I have compiled the following leadership tips—courtesy of Commander Bushey, which I believe can and will make a difference to the employees we serve:

- No bad news to our people just before they go off on days off or vacation. Obviously, this can ruin a vacation or weekend. Although bad news goes with the territory, we can provide it at a time when it is least likely to be personally devastating.
- Develop your people. Take every opportunity, within reason, to loan your people to assignments and schools. This will broaden their experience, enhance their value and increase their chances for new opportunities. Remember, when your employees shine, so do you!
- Never give up on the development of a weak employee, officer or supervisor. Avoid the temptation to just "write off" a weak worker, thereby resigning yourself to his/her marginal performance. If you really are a leader, this is your opportunity to develop and bring out the best in your employees.

TIM SANDS, TREASURER

Board of Inquiries or Board of Inquisitions?

Recently, the Chief of Police has started implementing Board of Inquiries (BOI's), addressing the promotability of certain candidates. Per Los Angeles Police Department Manual Section 2/094, Board of Inquiries are convened for "investigating a particular matter or alleged incident involving Department Personnel or Equipment." The convening authority is the Chief of Police and the Board is comprised of members of the appropriate class, rank and seniority designated by the Chief of Police. The Board is given a precept, which is a document issued by the Chief of Police activating the Board of Inquiries. The precept sets forth the rules of assembly, states the matter to be investigated, describes the scope of jurisdictions, and gives instructions as to what the final report shall include, and any pertinent information relevant to the course of action to be taken. As I stated, recently the Chief of Police has been convening these Board of Inquiries addressing the promotability of certain candidates who have been banded on certain promotion lists. The Chief of Police has been ordering these candidates removed from the promotional list pending the outcome of a Board of Inquiry. Then, after a BOI, the Chief of Police has been sending out a letter telling the candidate, based on the Board of Inquiry, whether the candidate will be promoted or not.

Traditionally, in the past, the vast majority of promotional BOI's have been convened to address officers who have been banded, and while they were banded were involved in alleged misconduct. Thus, the BOI was convened to address the candidate's promotability based on the new misconduct, which the Board of Civil Service and Promotional Assessment Board did not address.

To promote on this Department in a civil service rank, an officer takes a written examination, then orals, and is evaluated by a Civil Service Commission Oral Board. The candidate is then again evaluated and placed in a promotional band by a Promotional Assessment Board, which recommends promotion to the Chief of Police. Nowhere do I find in any Department Manual or policy that BOI's are an additional testing procedure used for candidates.

Thus, I come to the point in my article. As I stated prior, per LAPD manual section 2/094, BOI's are convened for "investigating a particular matter or alleged incident involving Department personnel or equipment." When officers are evaluated for civil service promotion, their personnel package is reviewed, and all

WORKING FOR YOU

BOB BAKER

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for your support in electing me to the position of League Director, Office No. 6, Detective. It was an exhilarating feeling for me, receiving the overwhelming support you gave me during the primary and run-off elections. My campaign visits throughout the Department created and renewed friendships and taught me a tremendous amount about your concerns and desires in the new millennium. My visits also gave me a renewed sense of commitment and pride after seeing and listening to dedicated officers and detectives in every division. I shall give you the same representation, leadership and vision that I sought to provide as a League delegate.

I am filling "big shoes" with the retirement of Director Gary Fullerton. As a League delegate, I worked side by side with Gary and found him to be of great integrity and tireless in representing the membership of the Protective League. I want to wish him and his family the best in retirement and in his new profession as a practicing attorney. He will be missed by all.

In September, I want to be able to celebrate my 30th anniversary with the Department with a feeling of accomplishment. When I think back to my first decade on the job, life and our role as police officers did not seem as complicated and demanding as what we are facing today. Over the past 20 years, as a League delegate, I experienced many of your frustrations firsthand.

My vision of my role in the coming year is to work closely with the various League committees and divisional delegates in obtaining the most equitable and desirous benefits for the membership as a whole. To make these visions happen, I will be reaching out to each of you through attendance at roll calls and squad meetings, my Blue Line column and telephone conversations. Our League President, Ted Hunt, has a clear and definite focus on where we should be going and how to get there. Our actions must demonstrate that we are all in this together. People who share a common direction and sense of community can go where they are going more quickly and easily because they are traveling on the thrust of one another.

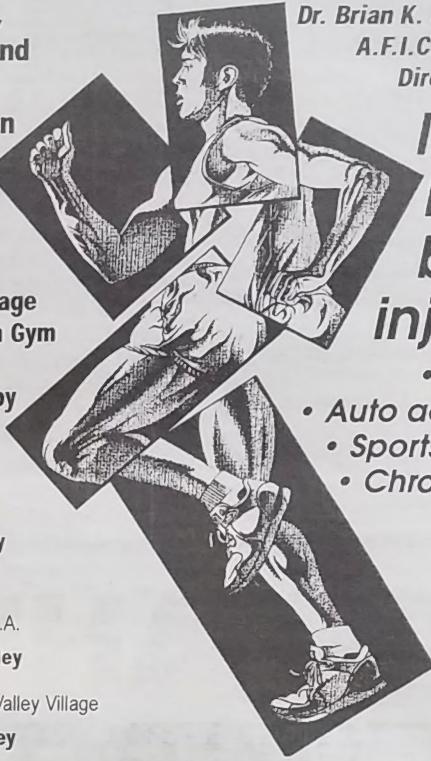

Again, thank you for this opportunity to serve you. In closing, I would like to say a special thank you to Sergeant Kevin McClure of Narcotics Division and Detective III's Ron Phillips and Ed Purcell of West Los Angeles detectives for their extra effort and devotion to me in my campaign.

It is great to see that we have a focused and cohesive Board that are all moving in the same direction toward a common goal: the resolution of the 2000 contract, better working conditions, a fair and impartial disciplinary system, as well as many other issues that come before us as officers.

I feel fortunate to have been assigned to the Pension Committee, Worker's Compensation, Uniforms and Equipment, as well as many others. I have also been given the privilege of being part of the team that will be negotiating our next contract, as well as Co-Chair of City Hall. If you have any questions or need any assistance, please do not hesitate to call. I am looking forward to working toward our future.

JUST THE FACTS

DON LINT

I would like to start this, my first Blue Line article out by thanking everyone who has participated in the recent elections and a special thanks to those of you who helped in electing me as your new Director. I think that many of the candidates had very good ideas and I intend to use all of those thoughts and ideas to your benefit during my term as your Director. I would sincerely appreciate hearing from any one of you that has an idea or suggestion that would be of benefit to our membership.

It is contract time again. This became evident when the Daily News wrote an editorial about a statement that former Director Gary Fullerton made to the Daily News. In Gary's statement he never mentioned anything about our up-coming contract negotiations, yet the spin placed on Gary's statements was that it was all about getting a good contract. That was untrue and dishonest. It is my opinion that the Daily News has in the past treated us relatively fairly, I wonder why they felt the need to write such an article?

The facts are that we have officers of every rank leaving the Department. Some retire, some resign and some are fired. In any event they are leaving faster than we can replace them. The question begs to be asked and answered, why are they leaving and why can't we replace them?

I spoke with a long time friend of mine the other day as I saw him walking out of Parker Center. He looked unusually happy. I asked him what he was doing downtown and he said that he had just retired. I was stunned. He had 17 years on the Department and was not 50 years old and was not independently wealthy. When I questioned him as to why he was leaving he said, "I just had enough." He went on to explain that he had loved this job and always looked forward to coming to work. He just couldn't take the constant barrage of personnel complaints and the job was no longer fun. He has found a job as an Assistant Pastor at a church near Sacramento. Goodbye, Shelly Gale, we will miss you.

The words that Shelly spoke are echoed throughout our Department today. Many, many officers feel the same way that Shelly did. The job is simply a very tough thing to get up and do day after day. We all know that there is a Personnel Complaint looming on the horizon that could potentially cost us our jobs. An insignificant complaint is no longer insignificant. It might simply cost you a few days, or maybe your rank if you are lucky. It could cost you your job and increasingly that is the case. I was listening to the Governor's State of the State address on my way home the other night and he said that crime in the state was down 15% last year and that police officers had a "passion" for their jobs that was a significant reason for the drop in crime. He also talked about hiring more police officers.

I believe that he was correct, the passion that we have for our jobs as police officers is what keeps us going. That is also what keeps new people coming to our Department. The problem is that the "passion" that the Governor spoke of is eroding our Department and that erosion is seeping beyond the Department. We are unable to recruit and retain enough qualified police officers to maintain our current strength. Let's face it, you can go to many other departments that pay much better than we do and they are not subjected to the incredibly harsh and unforgiving disciplinary system that we have.

We are the hardest working and best police officers in the world. The entire world looks to us as the police department that they want to be. It isn't really the Department that they want, it's the "passion" that we have for our jobs that they desperately want. We should be paid for the job we do. If we are to remain the Department that the world looks to, we should have pay and benefits commensurate to that position. Rest assured that the League is preparing for the upcoming contract negotiations.

THE PENSION SAVINGS PLAN

CLIFF RUFF

The Pension Savings Plan is a retirement and investment plan for part time, seasonal, and temporary employees who are not eligible to participate in the Fire and Police Pension System provided by the City. Police recruits in the academy are deemed temporary employees until they complete academy training and graduate. At graduation, the officer mandatorily becomes a member of the Fire and Police Pension System and ceases contributions to the Pension Savings Plan. In the Pension Savings Plan the recruit is required to pay 4.5 percent of his salary and the City makes a 3 percent contribution. At the 1999 salary schedule, a recruit will accrue between $1,540.00 and $1,762.00, depending on the officer's salary step. All funds in the Salary Savings Plan are 100% vested to the officer.

The Pension Savings Plan came as the result of the Federal Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990. This required that beginning July 1, 1991, all City employees not participating in a qualified retirement plan may be placed in Social Security or this program, which meets federal requirements. You do not have the option to participate in Social Security nor should you.

This pension savings plan only applies to officers hired after July 1, 1991. For those officers hired after July 1, 1991; you may leave that money in the Pension Savings Plan until you retire or resign; or you can roll it over into your City Deferred Compensation Plan any time you desire. So, if you came on the job after July 1, 1991, you can roll over your Pension Savings Plan into your Deferred Compensation Plan by going to the Personnel Department, Benefit Section in City Hall East, Room 713, the phone number is (213) 485-7846.

For all of those same employees that successfully complete probation, they may buy back their pension credits for the six months spent in the academy as a recruit. This procedure can be accomplished at the Department of Pensions, 360 East 2nd Street, Room 600; the phone number is (213) 485-4493. If you don't buy this time back you have to work an extra six months to have twenty years of pension credit.

Leap Year

Every four years is leap year. Believe it or not, every leap year officers call up asking if they are going to get paid for working the extra day in February. The answer is simple, an officer gets paid every fourteen days, regardless of the number of days in a month or a year. You always get paid for every day you work.

Be careful out there. Stay alert and safe. Thank the incident in Seattle for giving our City an incentive to bring home a contract on time.

WARNING BELLS

by Gary Ingemunson, Attorney at Law

"Never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee"
—John Donne

The gang member sat on the booking bench handcuffed to the metal ring looking forlorn and abandoned. His victim's blood was still on his shirt. SID had taken samples and you were returning from the scene of the brutal murder where you and your partner were trying to figure out the exact sequence of events that resulted in this newest gang-related death. You eye the suspect. He might talk. You didn't need any more evidence against him, but you had questions as to who else was there. It would also be helpful if some of the reasons behind the violence could be explained. It was worth a try.

You lead him to an interrogation room and light up the tape. You use your best relaxation techniques to establish a rapport and it appears that you might be successful. But when you read the suspect his rights, he refuses to waive. You still have burning questions about the murder scene. You realize you will not be able to use any further questions against the suspect, but any information would be useful to identify other suspects and clarify some of the evidence that you found. You have also been told in seminars, that statements outside Miranda could be used to impeach the suspect should he decide to get up on the stand and lie at his trial.

"OK," you tell the suspect, "you want an attorney, you will get one. I can't use anything you say from here on out against you, but I still have a couple of questions that you could help me with." The suspect does not protest. You ask questions and he gives answers. You know that his answers will help you in identifying the other suspects. They will also help you head the investigation in the right direction and save time. Furthermore, some of the information will help the CRASH people in their intelligence efforts to identify the structure of this particular gang.

You go home that night feeling that you have helped the citizens of Los Angeles and the Department with its mission to protect and serve. You do not realize that you may have just handed this murderer the deed to your house.

"Officers who intentionally violate the rights protected by Miranda must expect to have to defend themselves in civil actions." UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT, California Attorneys for Criminal Justice vs. James T. Butts, rehearing denied January 3, 2000. Emphasis added.

The arrest scenario I describe above is fictitious, but the quote from the Ninth Circuit is deadly accurate. Take this seriously. A flood gate may have been opened. One of the issues in this case most pertinent to you folks in the trenches is the denial of "qualified immunity" for your actions as a police officer. Qualified immunity is a concept that has its root in the very practical fact that government officials often must take action where clearly established rights are not clear. It is supposed to give the officials the sense that they can act with independence and without fear of civil consequences in deciding how to react to a situation. Think about the fifty decisions you make every day on whom to pull over, whom to write, whom to arrest, etc., etc., and etc. If you didn't have some expectation of some kind of protection from personal liability from all those potential lawsuits, it would take the "jaws of life" to pry you out of your police car to take any police action. Thus, "qualified immunity."

You lose qualified immunity when you perform a discretionary function that violates a clearly established constitutional or statutory right that is sufficiently clear that a reasonable official would understand that what he or she is doing violates that right. As you can imagine, as a practical matter, this is as clear as mud.

The Butts case quoted above involved Santa Monica and Los Angeles detectives (in separate cases combined by the court, Butts being the Chief of Police in Santa Monica). The facts were similar, but I will focus on our detectives. After some good police work, they arrested James Bey for the brutal murder of a woman in his apartment. The court admitted that there was no doubt Bey was guilty since he was the one who disposed of the body and cleaned the blood out of his apartment. It appeared to be just another dispute over drugs. The detectives had received training that statements outside Miranda could be used to impeach a suspect who chose to get on the stand and lie so they asked Bey some questions after he invoked his Miranda rights. That was in 1991. Here in 2000, these officers are still in trial in federal court and, according to this decision, do not qualify for immunity.

Note that James Bey is still in jail. This whole thing has nothing to do with the criminal side of the case. A state appellate court decided in 1993 that the questioning, although violating Bey's Miranda rights, was harmless because there was so much other evidence against him. The question still being litigated is civil damages for the alleged civil rights violation.

Looking at it another way, the fact that other courts have recognized the use of statements outside of Miranda for impeachment purposes combined with training on the usefulness of obtaining these statements does nothing to diminish the courts holding that the questioning of a suspect after the invocation of Miranda rights is a violation of a "clearly established" right.

The most troubling quotation from the case concerns the fact that the detectives brought forth their good faith belief that they were following their training.

"If the allegations by Bey and McNally prove to be true, the defendant detectives may believe that their police chiefs misled them as to the requirements of Miranda. However, these defendants cannot escape liability for their conduct merely by claiming that they were enforcing policies or orders promulgated by those with superior authority." Emphasis added.

A footnote says that this argument didn't work for Lieutenant Calley either. Comparing a fifteen minute conversation with an arrestee, with the My Lai massacre doesn't seem quite fair, but it gives you an idea where these judges are coming from.

Being able to blame the Chief of Police came to screeching halt shortly after this court decision was issued. A Department notice came out ordering officers to cease questioning a suspect regarding criminal activity after the suspect has invoked his Miranda rights. The notice is supposed to be signed and placed in your divisional personnel package. The message? You're on your own from here on in on this issue.

My advice is to strictly obey the notice. Since it concerns itself with your personal liability, it was put out for your own good (as well as to help insulate the City from liability). You should hear warning bells. The courts are telling you that, while they depend on you to bring them evidence of guilt, they will not protect you as an individual when you are accused of violating a suspect's constitutional rights, even when they themselves are split on the definition of "clear." Just as when the Department demands more tickets, arrests and field interviews, but will not protect you as an individual from groundless personnel complaints. Civil suits and personnel complaints, even when guilt is not established, all become grist for the "pattern of conduct" mill. It is unfortunate that this ruling and the resulting order from the Department will result in a less effective response to crime, but the alternative is to offer yourself and your family as potential sacrifices when you try too hard to be effective at your job. Hopefully, this decision will be appealed (and the Ninth Circuit is one of the most overturned circuits in the nation), but until a higher court speaks, this is the law. Hopefully, also, the City will continue to pay the damages assessed against Department employees as they have in the past. Deliberately violating the notice, however, may reduce your chances.

It is Not Always Bad News

The defense representatives had a really good day recently. Six officers in three separate Boards of Rights were found not guilty. This is an indication that the system can work. Our thanks for the hard work of defense representatives Bob Simpach, Adolph Rodriguez, Bill Suddeth, Mark Mireles, Scott Rate and Paul Weber. Credit also goes to Board members Captain George Gascon, Captain Bruce Crosley, Civilian David MacPherson, Commander Dan Koenig, Captain James Vogue, Civilian Richard Anthony, Captain Walter Schick, Captain Ronald Eutsey and Civilian Walter Coombs for their careful attention to the evidence presented to them.

As you can see from the above, representation is important. If you are interested in helping the system work, two representative schools are going to be given this year. Contact your training coordinator and have him or her write a 15.2 to Lt. Eric Coulter at the Officer Representation Section, or call (213) 485-9516.

Be legally careful out there.

Thank you for Your Support

It is now February, 2000, and your new Board of Directors is fully in place and ready to tackle the many challenges

- Develop your employees' writing skills. Strong writing skills are essential for those in any leadership position. Weak writing skills can translate into employees that are not adequately recognized, lawsuits that are unnecessarily lost, programs that are not approved, correspondence never initiated, subordinates who are not developed, and an increased workload for you.
- Develop an open-line of communication with your employees. Work hard at developing the type of rapport with your personnel where you are likely to be warned of issues that you need to be aware of, so that you can prevent things from going sideways. Early intervention and positive resolution will almost always prevent issues from becoming major problems. Most work place disputes and employee differences arise from a breakdown in communications.

The Los Angeles Police Department has enjoyed the reputation of being one of the finest law enforcement agencies in the world. However, maintaining that prestige will take the collective efforts of every officer and supervisor of this Department. I challenge everyone who leads in any capacity to develop and exercise solid leadership and supervisory practices on a daily basis, and to develop your personnel to their fullest potential.

sustained complaints are addressed and given the appropriate weight, as to the officer's promotability. However, based on the Chief of Police's BOI policy, he is removing certain candidates from a promotional list, for sustained complaints which have already been addressed by two different boards (the Civil Service Board and the Promotional Assessment Board), and both have recommended that the officer be promoted. The League has many concerns involving the Chief's BOI policy.

First, it violates Los Angeles Police Department Manual Section 2/094, in that BOI's are to be used for investigating a particular incident involving Department personnel. An old sustained complaint has already been adjudicated by the Chief of Police and reviewed by the Civil Service Commission and Promotional Assessment Board, prior to the candidate being placed on a promotion list. In other words, the sustained complaint has already been investigated and addressed.

Second, the implementation of BOI's are not uniformly and equally applied to all personnel.

Third, the Chief's BOI's policy violates the reasoning for having a Civil Service Commission Board and a Promotional Assessment Board.

tional Assessment Board. These are the Boards in place to recommend to the Chief of Police the promotability of a candidate, not a BOI.

Another reason for concern is violation of state law in that officers are being denied the copy of the BOI's findings. Per state law, officers are entitled to a copy of any documentation which is detrimental. Additionally, is the Chief of Police's BOI policy another way of implementing additional discipline on an adjudicated complaint? I have filed numerous grievances addressing the issues stated. Some of the grievances address sustained complaints that are over six years old and range from a DUI to neglect of duty.

The Chief of Police's position is that the issues I have stated are not grievable. The League will be attempting to compel the Chief to arbitrate in Superior Court on these issues. Meanwhile, we will be attempting to meet and confer with the Chief to negotiate a more equitable BOI policy. The League, as I am sure with the Chief, wants the most qualified individuals promoted. However, the League feels there are procedures in place to insure that the most qualified are promoted, and the way the BOI's now are being implemented should not be part of that procedure.

Take Care and Be Safe.

time, he tired of the Fire Department and returned to the LAPD where his law enforcement talents were recognized by all he encountered. He worked his way up to motors where he performed his duties in an exceptional way. Paul thrived on helping people and being the protector of society. Paul was the recipient of the Medal of Valor for heroic actions while assigned to patrol duties.

During a stop sign traffic stop in Foothill Division on June 2, 1983, at approximately 1700 hours, Paul was shot by a vicious criminal. I still remember the chilling radio broadcast that filled the airwaves following the shooting: Officer down, officer shot, officer needs help. We all responded Code 3 to the scene where an extensive search for the suspects took place. The entire Division along with all available Valley Bureau units responded to the command post. Metro officers and the Department's elite S.I.S. detectives were immediately put on the case. The neighbors of the community were all in shock with the senseless shooting of an LAPD officer enforcing traffic regulations in the quiet Lakeview Terrace neighborhood.

I made a follow-up to the hospital where I saw doctors and nurses all do their best to save the life of our colleague and friend. Their valiant efforts could not repair the damage done by the piercing bullets that penetrated Paul's 35-year-old physically fit body. Paul was pronounced dead. Sorrow and tears swept the eyes of officers as they heard the news of his death.

Paul left his beautiful wife, Sandy, and their two young sons to continue the struggle with life. Bryce was nine and Ryan was four when Paul was murdered. As the years passed and memories faded, Bryce and Ryan always remembered their hero dad and pursued their education and matured to responsible adulthood. On December 17, 1999, I had the honor of attending the graduation ceremony of Officer Bryce Verna from the Los Angeles Police Academy. Many of Paul's former partners and friends were in attendance including Chief Daryl F. Gates, Tom Sawdon, Chuck Lovold, Jim Merit and many others. Motor officers from throughout the city also attended the graduation in a showing of respect for Officer Bryce Verna. Bryce was presented his father's badge, #193, which he will wear with great pride and honor. Ryan Verna is currently testing to join the LAPD and plans to follow in his father's and brother's footsteps.

Our prayers and thoughts will always remain with the Verna family. May the patron saint of all police officers, St. Michael, watch over and protect Officer Bryce Verna as he pursues his desire to protect and serve the people of Los Angeles.

Dear Editor:

I read and re-read Gary Ingemunson's December "Warning Bells" article with bewilderment and disbelief. That three separate appellate court judges and a federal judge could rule as they did merely enforces the belief that police officers in general, and Los Angeles police officers in particular, have absolutely no rights whatsoever. Now a Los Angeles police officer has no avenue to redress any wrongdoings or abuses on the part of management or to redress a false complaint made against them. How very sad indeed.

Dear Editor:

On December 1, 1999, we received the tragic news that Matthew Lawrence, the 12-year-old son of Sgt. II Don Lawrence, passed away as a result of an asthma attack. The attack came suddenly and without warning on Thanksgiving eve.

The news was hard on all of us at Transit Bus Division, Don's newly assigned division. We wondered how a parent's worst nightmare could happen to anyone, especially a person like Don. If you knew him, you would know exactly what I mean.

What I did not anticipate was how the members of our Department came together as soon as the news of the tragedy spread. There was nothing that could be done to bring Matthew back to us. However, brother officers stood up and were present to make the difficult road for the Lawrence family a little easier.

First, Sgt. Mike Apodaca and Officer Holly Kapra, who were at Don and his wife, Chris's, side when Matthew was at the hospital several days before his death, being helpful, offering guidance, and subsequently making the funeral arrangements. There was our captain, Vance Proctor, along with Commander Zimmon. Going beyond the call of duty giving Don all the assistance he needed to cope. There was the outpouring of help from the officers of Transit Bus Division. The pain and sorrow was evident on their faces every day at roll call. Lt. Michael Brooks who was constantly at Don and Chris's side, Department plus a $200 finder's fee. That is $2200. Spread over a year, that is $183 per month. Why not invest in keeping what you already have?

The decisions to be made in the next few months is about the future of Los Angeles. The officers who make up the Department will make a difference in the quality of life in this City. The question to the Mayor, the City Council and the Police Commission has to be -- What kind of officer do you want answering the call to your home or to your business?

The quality of the officers you hire and retain will make the difference in business and commerce in the City of Los Angeles. Keep the ones you have while you look for new high quality officers.

ensuring they were receiving everything they needed. In addition, the response from officers and Capt. Seban of Foothill Division, Sgt. Danny Roman, Sgt. John Cooley and many others who stepped up to the plate and provided assistance. One of my most memorable events was when an old friend, Lt. Tom Smart, West Valley Division, walked in the station with an envelope containing money and handed it to me. He told me that it was from the officers of West Valley. They did not know Don but were touched by Matthew's death.

I just can't say "thank you" enough for providing Don with all the prayers and assistance. I am sure there are a lot of you that I missed. Nevertheless, I can tell you this—I am a true believer that we are a family, especially in the hour of need.

Bob Heredia, Sergeant

COMMENDABLE COPPER CAPERS

Sgt. Roger Murphy, #30117
Officer Humberto Franco, #32642
Officer William Snowden, #23450
Pacific Division

Sgt. Murphy, #30117, Officer Franco, #32642 and Officer Snowden, #23450, were working Pacific Crime Suppression Unit. We were in full uniform walking a footbeat in the area of 6th Ave. and Broadway due to ongoing complaints from robbery victims and citizens living in the area concerning the following: M/blks wearing "ninja" style clothing (all black with masks covering their faces), armed with handguns and using laser lights to flag down potential narcotic buyers. We were also in the area due to a recent homicide that occurred at ABV LOC.

We went to the location of 563 and 565 Broadway looking for a m/blk approximately 6 feet, 220 pounds, wearing all black. We had previously observed this person approaching pedestrians and vehicles in the area in a manner consistent with a narcotic street dealer (these observations were made from different locations during an approximate 30 minute duration). As we checked the courtyard of the apartment complex of 565 Broadway we heard and then observed several persons whistling and calling out from the sidewalk and street in front of 563 Broadway (these came from two pedestrians and a bicyclist). We then stood behind the bushes bordering the sidewalk and courtyard watching for ABV suspect.

As we waited, we observed the suspect approach two m/blks on the southwest corner of 6th Ave. and Broadway and hold a brief conversation. One of them stated "Wait here" then walked away eastbound out of their view. We continued watching the suspect, believing he was possibly attempting to purchase cocaine. At approximately 0005 hours, the m/blk returned stating "I been up and down the block, nobody has anything."

Sgt. Murphy and I formulated a plan to attempt to sell the suspect what he would believe to be cocaine (we have participated in several reverse buy operations with West Bureau Narcotics in which macadamia nuts are sold to buyers who are attempting to possess cocaine). I picked up an off-white rock on the ground the same approximate size as what is commonly sold for $20 on the street and looked out of an approximately 6 inch gap in the bushes. I then whistled in a manner that I have heard narcotic buyers and sellers use to gain attention. The suspect then approached the sidewalk on the other side of my bush and I stated "What you want?" The suspect immediately stated "I want a dove" (Dove is street vernacular for $20 of rock cocaine) and faced the bush. I stated "Let me see the money," and he held up a wad of folded currency with his left hand. The suspect stated "Let me see the rock first," and I stuck my hand through the bush with the rock in the palm. The suspect bent his face down to approximately eight inches from my palm and felt the rock. The suspect then picked up the rock with his right thumb and index finger as Sgt. Murphy and Officer Franco exited the courtyard and walked up behind the suspect. Sgt. Murphy announced himself as the police as the suspect was looking at the rock in his right palm. The suspect immediately raised the rock to his mouth and swallowed it. Officer Franco then recovered the folded currency from the suspect's left hand (a ten, one five and three dollar bills, item #1). Deft. arrested 664/11350a H&S (attempt possession).

A Century Of Sacrifice

by Craig W. Floyd

As we duly note the great achievements of the 20th century and the persons responsible for them, I would like to throw in my two cents for a group of largely forgotten American heroes, our nation's police officers.

When we talk about their achievements, let's start with the fact that the nation's crime rate is at its lowest level in some 30 years. Some may argue that good policing may not be in the same league as being the greatest sports hero, or writing the best song, but keeping our homes and families safe and secure should count for something. Hitting 70 home runs in a single baseball season is a pretty incredible feat, but so is going undercover and busting a billion dollar drug trafficking operation. Conquering Mount Everest took a lot of courage, but so did taking a bullet for the president. And, just as developing a vaccine for a deadly disease saved countless lives, so did the DARE officers in our schools and the state troopers patrolling our highways.

Unfortunately, the achievements of our officers have come at great risk and tremendous personal sacrifice. Just consider, for example, that between 1900 and the end of 1998, more than 14,000 federal, state and local law enforcement officers in the United States were killed in the line of duty. Half of the officers who died this century, or nearly 7,000, were killed by firearms. Another 30 percent, or about 4,000, died in traffic-related accidents. These and the numerous other causes of death prove the point that a cop is only a call away from the next life-threatening moment.

There were times during this past century when the heroic actions of our officers received national attention. We will never forget that Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit was shot and killed trying to capture the man who assassinated President John F. Kennedy. The Attica prison riot, and the seven correctional officers who died there, will always be remembered as one of the most tragic events of the past 100 years. And, in more recent memory, there was no greater outpouring of national grief and outrage than when two officers--Jacob J. Chestnut and John Gibson--were brutally gunned down at the U.S. Capitol. More often than not, though, the extraordinary service and sacrifice given by our officers over the past 100 years went largely unnoticed.

The deadliest decade for our officers was not the Roaring '20s when gangsters fought police on the streets. It was not the '30s when despair gripped the nation during the Great Depression. Interestingly, it was the 1970s when a total of 2,215 officers were killed in the line of duty, including an all-time high of 271 in 1974. Thankfully, the number of police fatalities has declined steadily since then. In the 1980s we averaged 187 officer fatalities each year, and in the 1990s (through 1998) we averaged 156.

A combination of factors appears to be making life safer for our officers, including better training, improved equipment, the increased use of bullet-resistant vests, and the overall drop in crime. This is a trend that will only continue if our elected leaders remain committed to providing law enforcement with the manpower and other resources needed to effectively combat an increasingly sophisticated and cold-blooded criminal element.

Others will have to judge our nation's success in meeting those important challenges during the next century. In the meantime, as presidential contenders try to win over the electorate, I would like to cast my vote for America's law enforcement officers. The category: greatest unsung achievement by a profession in the 20th century.

Police Deaths Drop Dramatically In 1999

The number of law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty dropped by more than 15 percent during 1999, making the last 10 years the safest decade for police since the '60s, and providing further proof that crime is on a steep downward slide nationwide.

Led by a 29 percent decline in shooting deaths, the number of officers killed during the past 12 months dropped to 130, compared to 156 police fatalities in 1998, according to preliminary figures released today by the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund (NLEOMF) and the Concerns of Police Survivors (COPS). Fewer police officers died in 1999 than in any year since 1965.

"A combination of factors appears to be making life safer for our officers," observed NLEOMF Chairman Craig W. Floyd, "including better training, improved equipment, the increased use of bullet-resistant vests, and the overall drop in crime." The average number of officers killed each year during the 1990s averaged 153, compared to 187 during the '80s, and 222 during the '70s--the deadliest decade in law enforcement history.

The 45 officers who were shot to death in 1999 represented the fewest number of officers killed by firearms in a single year since 1962. There were 63 firearms-related police fatalities in 1998. This announcement comes on the heels of an FBI report that showed a 10 percent decline in serious crime in the United States during the first half of 1999, extending the nationwide crime drop to 7-1/2 years.

Of the 130 officers who made the ultimate sacrifice in 1999, 47 died in automobile accidents, 45 were shot to death, 15 succumbed to job-related illnesses, eight were struck by vehicles, seven died in motorcycle accidents, four were killed in aircraft accidents, two were stabbed, one died in a fall, and one was struck and killed by a train. This is the first year ever that automobile accidents caused more police fatalities than shooting incidents. Texas was the deadliest state in the nation last year for police officers, with 10 fatalities; followed by Georgia with nine, North Carolina and Tennessee with eight, and California and Florida with seven each.

"It is encouraging to know that the number of police fatalities in our country is going down," commented COPS President Debbie Geary. "However, the fact remains that more than 1,500 officers have sacrificed their lives this decade to preserve public safety. Those officers and their families must never be forgotten."

Thinking about going back to college, but don't know where to start?

The Los Angeles Police Protective League will present our third annual

College Day

February 29, 2000
from 9:00 am to 2:00 pm

Los Angeles Police Academy

1880 North Academy Drive - Los Angeles (near Dodger Stadium)

The purpose of LAPPL College Day 2000 is to encourage police officers and civilian employees to further their formal education.

Better Pay:

Sworn officers cannot obtain a POST Certificate beyond the Basic without college education. Most agencies have significant pay bonuses for higher education and/or advanced POST Certificates.

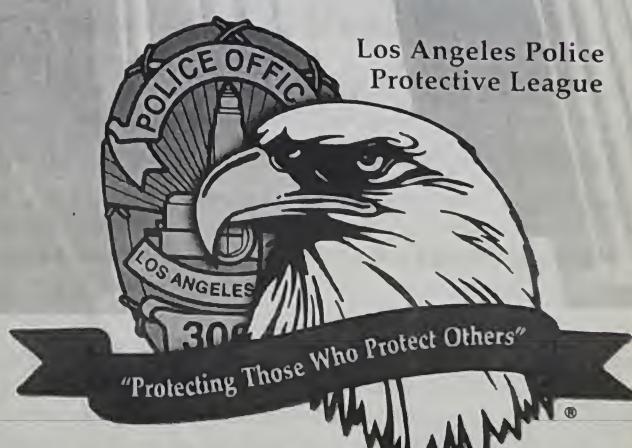

Promotions:

Many agencies require a college education for promotions.

Improved Service:

Studies indicate that a better educated officer provides a higher quality of service and is a lower liability risk to the employing agency.

LAPPL College Day 2000 is a forum for you (sworn officers and civilian employees) to determine which school is best for you. There will be over 50 colleges at LAPPL College Day 2000. You will be able to talk to several college counselors so you can find an educational program that will fit your complex job and family demands.

Police Corps Doesn't Pay

(Reprinted from The Washington Post.)

On behalf of the National Association of Police Organizations, which represents 250,000 sworn law enforcement officers nationwide, I'd like to respond to "For New Officers, Police Corps Pays" [Metro, Nov. 22]. My organization opposes the Police Corps program because it does not solve the problem of recruiting qualified officers and creates other problems within the profession.

The Police Corp pays for new officers recruited under the program, but not for new recruits who chose the traditional route or for active officers who desire a college education. The program creates special benefits for only a few officers, creating a decline in morale. Further, the Police Corps program has not helped recruit qualified law enforcement officers--its supposed goal.

The expenditure for each candidate is high--an estimated $71,000 and the candidate is committed to only four years of service.

The National Association of Police Organizations has been fighting for more equitable provisions to recruit and retain law enforcement officers, such as scholarship programs that benefit active officers. We also assert that the most effective way to recruit qualified candidates to serve as law enforcement officers is to offer competitive financial packages and a healthy working environment.

Spending an undue amount of funds on officers who are required to spend just four years in law enforcement, while denying scholarship funds to those who already have committed themselves to a career in law enforcement, makes no sense.

Suspension Of Questioning Suspects Who Invoke Miranda Rights

Effective: Immediately

In November, 1999, the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in California Attorneys for Criminal Justice v. James T. Butts that further questioning of a suspect after that suspect has invoked his/her Miranda rights may subject officers and the city to civil liability. The court's decision denied immunity to officers who had intentionally continued to question a suspect after he had invoked his right to silence and to counsel. The Los Angeles City Attorney's Office has requested a rehearing of the Butts decision and the outcome of this request is still pending.

Effective immediately and until further judicial clarification, officers shall no longer question a suspect regarding criminal activity (including any "debriefing" questions), after the suspect has invoked his/her Miranda rights. However this Notice does not change the way officers obtain information for the purposes of processing arrestees (booking information, medical treatment, etc.) and/or completing the Investigator's Final Report, Form 5.10.

Commanding officers shall ensure that all sworn personnel receive a copy of this Notice and sign the attached Acknowledgement of Receipt. The Acknowledgement of Receipt shall then be filed in each employee's divisional personnel package.

Suicide Prevention Center Needs More Volunteers

The Suicide Prevention Center needs new volunteers to help staff its 24-hour crisis line. You can join the team that makes a real difference in people's lives. Since 1958, the Center has helped tens of thousands of people in crisis. The Suicide Prevention Center was the first 24-hour hotline in the United States to specialize in suicide prevention. Today, we are seeking additional volunteers to help answer the increasing number of crisis calls.

No previous experience is necessary to volunteer. A training by professionals provides the needed skills. Volunteers affluent in Spanish and English are especially needed. Volunteers can choose from available shifts, day or night, that best meet their schedule. To receive a volunteer application, call Chuck Gubera at (310) 751-5373.

Shake Rattle and Roll, Code B. Choir Practice, Code X, Training Day etc. How long has it been since you have heard these words . . . HURRAY AT LAST?

Well let's do it again so you can renew old acquaintances at an old fashioned "Metro" training day. We have decided to get the old group together for a steak fry and some beer and B.S., no speeches, no band, no program, no special guests . . . except you.

This "Choir Practice" will be for all "Metro Alumni" past and present. It is impossible to contact all past "Metro Masters" so we will need your help. Spread the word to all your old partners so we could have a great turnout.

For this reunion of ALL METRO FOLKS, let's get together and have some fun and say "howdy" to an old partner. Remember that wonderful song with those sweet words of endearment — "Hurray at last he's a horse's ass?" Well, get your voices in tune.

Here's hoping to see you on June 9, 2000, at 1700 hours at the Police Academy picnic area. Price will be $20 which will include a great steak and all the trimmings, and liquid refreshment and a memento.

Officer Safety and Radio Communications

by Sgt. André Belotto
Newton Patrol Division

First Scenario: You're on patrol and you hear Officer "A" request assistance over his radio. He was only able to voice that he "needed assistance and had suspects at gunpoint." You are a few blocks away and you immediately respond to your fellow officer's location. You drive around a corner and find that you're the first unit to arrive, but you also discover that you're downrange from Officer "A"'s shotgun. Moments earlier, Officer "A" notified dispatch that he was on a "traffic stop at Main Street and Elm Avenue."

Second Scenario: You and your partner see a vehicle cruising down the street and it's going a little bit over the speed limit. Upon closer observation you see that it's occupied by two local gang members who may have been involved in a gang fight the night before. You and your partner discuss stopping the vehicle for investigative purposes and for the speed violation. You are the driver and contact officer. Your partner is the cover officer and in charge of communications. You hear your partner advise dispatch that your unit is "on a vehicle stop at First Street and Oak Avenue." You begin to approach the driver's side of the violator's vehicle and see that the driver is holding a pistol in his hand. You yell "gun" and begin to back up to your police vehicle as your partner takes cover behind a tree. You start to give commands for the driver to put his hands up and out the window, and your partner is busy covering you so he doesn't have time to get on the radio and voice any requests. He only has time to push the radio's alarm button. Dispatch broadcasts an "officer needs help" at First and Oak.

Several units are responding and you can hear the sirens in the distance. You and your partner are still busy with the armed suspects as a couple of responding units approach toward your location from downrange of your and your partner's gun barrels. You pray to God that these suspects don't decide to shoot it out because officers are still in the line of fire. The above scenarios are all too common in police work. Radio communications are usually too general and need to become more specific at first when things are calm and before any surprises come up. Responding officers in the above scenarios should not have to tie up the radio frequency inquiring "which way does the unit want me to respond?"

The officers requesting assistance may not have time to talk on the radio and give an update. Yet, if the primary unit was not specific when they communicated that they were at Main and Elm or at First and Oak, units have a 25% chance, or one chance in four, of approaching the intersection toward their fellow officers' line of fire.

If the officers are on a stop in the middle of a block, those chances increase to 50%. That exposure to cross-fire is avoidable, and also unacceptable. The above situations could have easily been made safer for responding officers, and at the same time, kept radio frequencies clear and available for the officers in need of assistance should they have needed it. In my FTO days, tactical radio communications was one of the first topics of discussion with my new "boot" or probationary officer.

In the first scenario, the initial broadcast to dispatch should have been: "Unit X, show me a traffic stop on license ABC123, southbound Main south of Elm." Should an emergency occur, responding officers know NOT to respond northbound Main toward Elm without having to ask. In the second scenario, the cover officer should have communicated their intentions to dispatch as follows: "Unit Y, show me Code-6 on a vehicle, license 321XYZ, with two occupants, northbound First just south of Oak." Here again, responding officers know that Unit Y has a little more than a traffic stop since they broadcasted a "Code-6" instead of a "Traffic Stop." Even before an emergency arises, responding units will know not to respond southbound First from Oak because the unit advised that they were south of Oak. Officer-safety-minded communications via radio is not difficult, it just takes practice and consistency until it becomes second nature.

Officers owe it to each other to think of every stop as a situation in which fellow officers may also have to respond. Look out for their safety. It's obvious that not every situation will involve firearms being pointed at suspects but whenever possible responding units should never respond in an opposite direction from which the primary unit is facing. Responding in an opposite direction at night might have responding officers facing high beams and spotlights and their night vision goes on a hiatus for a few minutes.

We can all picture the dangers of approaching a location where officers have armed suspects at gunpoint and all we see is bright lights. Again, not all situations will have officers facing the direction their vehicle is pointing, although in most traffic stops that is the case.

Tactical radio communications should also be applied during pedestrian stops as well. You are assigned a footbeat detail and instead of notifying dispatch that you are on a "pedestrian (or "ped" stop) at Spruce Street and Kelp Avenue," a more specific way of broadcasting would be "Unit FB5, ped stop on the parking lot, northwest corner of Spruce and Kelp." Should you get into a hand-to-hand combat with the suspect, and are rolling in the parking lot pavement between cars trying to keep your gun from being taken, you don't want responding officers looking for you at the other three corner lots at Spruce and Kelp. You want them in YOUR parking lot, in YOUR corner of Spruce and Kelp, and want them NOW!

Think about it and discuss it with your partner today.

Nam Knights of America—Fellow Police Officers, Veterans and Riders

The Nam Knights of America motorcycle club is made up of Harley Davidson owners that are dedicated to honoring the memory of those men and women who lost their lives during their tour of duty in Vietnam or law enforcement officers who also lost their lives in the line of duty. The organization also assists veterans of all conflicts in time of need.

The organization was formed by a police officer in the Bergen County, New Jersey Prosecutor's Office, who was also a Vietnam Vet. Having an interest in motorcycling and helping others, he built this family-oriented organization. Other law enforcement personnel and veterans became interested and the organization was started with a total of thirteen full patch members.

The organization truly believes in the POW/MIA issue and also we pledge to give whatever help we can to our fellow law enforcement officers who are in need. We also aid the homeless veteran and those that are being hospitalized in our veteran homes.

From its inception, many people have expressed an interest in the club and, as a result of this interest, the club has experienced tremendous growth. 1999 is the tenth anniversary of the Nam Knights of America and we are very proud to say that we have grown to twelve chapters up and down the East coast.

Poet's Corner

by Urrutia, #24900, CTD

Lord, another year has passed, too soon we feel the grip of old age as we continue to work and to pray.

We find ourselves more tired now too, even though we have so much more to do.

What else then, dear Father, remains for us to do. But to give you thanks and praise as you have taught us to.

And thank you, Father, for all the blessings you have given me. I wanted to thank you for those too.

Father, I needed to write to you again. And again to ask you to protect me now and then. It's not an easy job we do, sometimes we pull it together with some paper and some glue. The people, they're still the same. Some are younger most are gray and our chiefs are still so vain.

We do what we have, it's not much for our morale.

We continue with the struggle,
we feel we are corralled.

Same things happen, nothing's changed, we continue on this ride.

And if we continue here, we'll retire or we'll die.

Cops on the Take

They take time to explain why both your headlights have to work.
They take the job no one else wants—telling you a loved one has died.

They take criminals to jail.
They take in sights that would make you cry.

Sometimes they cry too,
but they take it anyway
because someone has to.
If they are lucky, they take retirement.

They take memories to bed each night that you couldn't bear for even one day.

Sometimes, they take a bullet.
And yes, occasionally they may take a free cup of coffee.
Then one day they pay for all they have taken, and God takes them.

God bless ALL COPS everywhere!

Welcome Recruit Class #12-99

On December 20, 1999, Marty Chalupa welcomed the 12-99 LAPD recruit class. The seven with prior military service joined Police Post #381. Congratulations and welcome to the new members: Thomas Conrad (USN), Davis Giron (USMC), Henry Joe (USMC), Robert Metoyer (USA), Ryan Powell (USMC), Wendy Schultz (USA), Daniel Suarez (USMC).

Benefits

There are several companies that offer special services or discounted prices to the members of the American Legion. Each month, I will list some of these companies. There are two in the "eye care" field. "Rx America," 800-905-9818, and "Eye Care of America," 800-221-3272. For more information on benefits, visit www.legion.org.

Trivia

Where did the "ambulance" get started (figuratively, not literally)? The ambulance once brought the hospital to the patient. The French called this field hospital "hôpital ambulants." From this name, ambulance was applied to the vehicle. After the process was reversed, the patients were transported to the hospital, the vehicle retained the name.

How about "bringing home the bacon"? It was once the practice at county fairs to grease a pig and let him loose among a number of contestants. The person who successfully caught the pig kept it, so, of course, he would "bring home the bacon."

How did "wash out" become to mean a failure? Early in the 19th century, British soldiers learned marksmanship by shooting at iron targets. If their marks (or scores) weren't good enough, the marks would be painted over or

"whitewashed." Thus "washout" came to mean a failure or a disappointment.

The Next Meeting of Police Post #381

Our meetings are held on the third Tuesday of the month. February 14th is Valentine's Day. Our February meeting on 2/15/2000 is in honor of our wives and sweethearts. Hopefully they are one and the same person. Cocktails are at 6:00 p.m., and dinner at 7:00. There is a $5 donation for dinner-guests are gratis. Location: the Panorama Post, at 13553 Reedley Street, Panorama City. For information on the meeting, please call Adjutant Frank Ortiz, (626) 331-4271.

The Warriors, The American G.I.

From disparate roots but united by patriotic courage, U.S. soldiers preserved freedom around the world.

G.I. is a World War II term that two generations later continues to conjure up the warmest and proudest memories of a noble war that pitted pure good against evil—and good triumphed. The victors in that war were the American G.I.s, the Willies and Joes, the farmer from Iowa and the steelworker from Pittsburgh who stepped off a landing craft into the hell of Omaha Beach. The G.I. was the wisecracking kid Marine from Brooklyn who clawed his way up a deadly hill on Pacific Island. He was a black fighter pilot escorting white bomber pilots over Italy and Germany, proving that skin color had nothing to do with skill or courage. He was a native Japanese-American infantryman released from his own country's concentration camp to join the fight. She was a nurse relieving the agony of a dying teenager. He was a petty officer standing on the edge of a heaving aircraft carrier with two signal paddles in his hands, helping guide a dive-bomber pilot back onto the deck.

They were America. They reflected our diverse origins. They were the embodiment of the American spirit of courage and dedication. They were truly a "people's army," going forth on a crusade to save democracy and freedom, to defeat tyrants, to save oppressed peoples and to make their families proud of them. They were the Private Ryans, and they stood firm in the thin red line. For most of those G.I.s, World War II was the adventure of their lifetime. Nothing they would ever do in the future would match their experiences as the warriors of democracy, saving the world from its own insanity.

You can still see them in every 4th of July color guard, their gait faltering but ever proud . . . The G.I. carried the value system of the American people. The G.I.s were the surest guarantee of America's commitment. For more than 200 years, they answered the call to fight the nation's battles. They never went forth as mercenaries on the road to conquest. They went forth as reluctant warriors, as citizen soldiers. They were as gentle in victory as they were vicious in battle. I've had survivors of Nazi concentration camps tell me of the joy they experienced as the G.I.s liberated them: America had arrived! I've had a wealthy Japanese businessman come into my office and tell me what it was like for him as a child in 1945 to await the arrival of the dreaded American beasts, and instead meet a smiling G.I. who gave him a Hershey bar. In thanks, the businessman was donating a large sum of money to the USO. After thanking him, I gave him a souvenir, a Hershey bar I had autographed. He took it and began to cry.

The 20th century can be called many things, but it was most certainly a century of war. The American G.I.s helped defeat fascism and communism. They came home in triumph from the ferocious battlefields of World Wars I and II. In Korea and Vietnam they fought just as bravely as any of their predecessors, but no triumphant receptions awaited them at home. They soldiered on through the twilight struggles of the cold war and showed what they were capable of in Desert Storm. The American people took them into their hearts again. In this century hundreds of thousands of G.I.s died to bring to the beginning of the 21st century the victory of democracy as the ascendant political system on the face of the earth. The G.I.s were willing to travel far away and give their lives, if necessary, to secure the rights and freedoms of others. Only a nation such as ours, based on a firm moral foundation, could make such a request of its citizens. The volunteer G.I.s of today stand watch in Korea, the Persian Gulf, Europe and the dangerous terrain of the Balkans. We must never see them as mere hirelings, off in a corner of our society. They are our best, we owe them our full support and our sincerest thanks.

As this century closes, we look back to identify the great leaders and personalities of the past 100 years. We do so in a world still troubled, but full of promise. That promise was gained by the young men and women of America who fought and died for freedom. Near the top of any listing of the most important people of the 20th century must stand, in singular honor, the American G.I.

Well, we made it through another season and the millennium was worse than his bite. We all like to quash a vice. Aircrew did not declare and make an off-site landing. R-Us parking lot in order. Pokémon. Boy, I don't know what gets started.

We celebrated our annual party on December 11th. It was a beautiful cruise in the Catalina Express with a buffet, live band, dancing, and lots of fun. The entire station fund comfader event. We sincerely thank you for your hard work.

During the party, C.O. presented our Air Support Annual Awards. The Hooper Award goes above and beyond the call of duty to make Air Support Division successful. It's named after whom our Helipad was. The year's recipient of the award was Lt. Bob Grone at Air Support, the hard work and dedication of the ASD annual award is "The Year." We all agree that commendations or an award goes to the back for a job well done. Aircrew of the Year is Aircrew members who are most rewarding. This award goes to Aircrews believe that the year is Pilot Bob Beale, Flight Officer Cole Bur, and Flight Officer Cole Bur.

As the new century begins, it continues to evolve. Lt. Col. John T. O'Farrell, USAF, "slipped through the cracks" but was outstanding after their Welcome to ASD Officer Hernandez (77th). Adam S. and Erwin Stowell (77th)

ASD Happenings

Well, we made it through the holiday season and the millennium bug's bark was worse than his bite. I would first of all like to quash a vicious rumor. An Aircrew did not declare an emergency and make an off-site landing in the Toys-R-Us parking lot in order to buy the last Pokémon. Boy, I don't know how these things get started.

We celebrated our ASD Christmas party on December 11th. We all enjoyed a beautiful cruise in Newport Harbor on the Catalina Express with a seafood buffet, live band, dancing, and . . . well you were there and most of us remember the evening. Anyway, thanks a ton to our entire station fund committee on a wonderful event. We sincerely appreciate all of your hard work.

During the party, C/O Capt. Ken Hale presented our Air Support Division Annual Awards. The "Hooper" award is presented annually to the person at ASD who goes above and beyond the call of duty to make Air Support Division a better place to work. It's named after J. S. Hooper for whom our Heliport was dedicated. This year's recipient of the ASD Hooper Award was Lt. Bob Green. From everyone at Air Support, thanks for all of your hard work and dedication. The other ASD annual award is "ASD Aircrew of the Year." We all agree it's nice to get commendations or an occasional pat on the back for a job well done. Well, the Aircrew of the Year is voted on solely by Aircrew members which makes it most rewarding. This award shows that ASD Aircrews believe that this Aircrew of the year is Pilot Bob Bean and Tactical Flight Officer Cole Burdette. Congratulations.

As the new century begins, Air Support continues to evolve. Last month three Tactical Flight Officer Candidates "slipped through the cracks" and ranked outstanding after their one month loan. Welcome to ASD Officers Dave Hernandez (77th), Adam Schiffer (Harbor) and Erwin Stowell (VTD). The bad news is the probation period for TFOs just changed from three to four DPs. Keep up the good work and the time will "fly by." This DP, Al Canche from Hollenbeck and Bob Price, MSD, are jumping into the left seat to give it a try. Good luck to you both. The last big change for the DP is we lost Lt. Bob Green to Rampart Division. We threw the lieutenant a little send-off barbecue ASD style, but this is one change that is tough to swallow. Rampart has been blessed and you will sincerely be missed, Lt. Green. Boy, change is sure constant. When I was a kid, "Pepe Le Pew" was a funny cartoon. Now it's considered stalking.

We all send wishes for a speedy recovery to former ASD Officer Mike Partain who suffered a heart attack. Mike is currently assigned Press Relations but will always be ASD family. Sgt. John Preston also had a recent scare. I understand it wasn't a heart attack but still very serious. As of this writing, Sgt. Preston is back to work but not yet 100%. And yes, of course, you are ASD family too, Sgt. Preston. Kind of like Billy Carter was to Jimmy. Just kidding, Sarge. Welcome back and get well soon.

ASD Tip of the Month

To start out the new year and new century I would like to explain why we at Air Support Division include a "Tip of the Month" in each article. We are a support division in place to help you get your job done more safely, efficiently and effectively. Aircrew members do your job (work the street) a minimum of five years before becoming eligible to apply for a position here. We also see a large volume of police work being done from the air. We see a ton of examples of how to do things right and get the job done safely every day. We also see some examples of how not to do things. Like any professional organization, we evaluate what we see, discuss it, debrief it, and attempt to improve to make ourselves better. I attempt to discuss "tips" in order to share this information. My content comes from my personal experience as well as input from others and use of examples of incidents good and bad. We can all learn from both. Please send me input or ideas (Burdette, C. #26440) on the department e-mail or give me a call at 2600 if there is any comment or concern with my content. I hope you all enjoy and learn from the ASD Tip of the Month.

Be safe in the new year. You watch your six and we'll watch the rest. Take care.

Foothill Patrol

Officers to be commended, P-3 Andy Garcia, #27045, and P-3 Duane Aikins, #31039. Officers were in the area of Tujunga which is called the "Rock." They observed a vehicle being driven by a subject who, apparently aware of the officers' presence and scrutiny, threw an object out of the window. He then ran a stop sign in apparent inattention. A traffic stop was conducted and the driver was contacted. The throw item was recovered.

The item was a wad of paper containing 86 wafers of rock cocaine. Also recovered pursuant to the investigation and arrest was $91 from the driver's pocket.

The subject was booked at Foothill Station for 11351.5 H&S and detained at Sylmar Juv. Hall. These officers are commended for their observation skills, investigations and report capabilities.

Congratulations . . .

Officer Gloria Esquivel and family. On December 27, 1999, at 1845 and 1845 hours Gloria delivered healthy fraternal twin girls, Nina Delores and Geena Jacqueline, weighing 6.8 pounds and 6.5 pounds, and 18.5 inches.

Detectives

In detectives we have what is called the Career Criminal Unit, which is run by D-2 Robert Vanina, #22148, P-3 Brian Pogue, #30523, P-2 Bobby Royal, #31456, P-2 Mark Hogan, #31497, and Trevor Grant, #32759.

This unit has compiled astonishing statistics given their small number of officers in this detail. The areas in which they have include felony arrest, multiple clearances and recovered stolen property. The unit has arrested over 106 felony predators from the Foothill area. The arrests include burglars, car thieves, drug dealers, receivers and persons for indecent exposure.

The unit has recovered 9 handguns, 4 rifles and 2 shotguns, of which three were reported stolen. This unit is responsible for returning approximately $21,000. have stolen property back to the rightful owners, and are currently processing in excess of $100,000 of unclaimed stolen property. While collecting the above property and arrest, this unit has seized well over two pounds of narcotics and $13,600 in cash (contraband), which has been forfeited through Asset/Forfeiture Division. These officers are commended for their attention to duty, teamwork, investigation skills, and for improving the quality of life for the citizens in Foothill Area.

This unit was involved in an investigation of a Hot Prowl Burglary suspect named Robert Ayala who was living in the Arleta area. Det. Morales conducted a workup on the suspect and revealed he was a parolee at large, wanted since Nov., 1995. This unit conducted a follow-up to the address and discovered the suspect was kicked out of the location. The officers were able to identify a vehicle the suspect was living out of, unknown location. Officer put out a wanted bulletin to all patrol watches. AM Watch officers Washington, #27354, and Kotsinadelis, #33478, spotted the described vehicle at the auto part zone on Sepulveda Blvd.

north of Roscoe Blvd. Surveillance was initiated for 24 hours and the officers had negative results. Prior to officers leaving D-3 Vanina left a trap for the suspect by leaving a note that he was interested in buying his vehicle and pager number. The next day the suspect called D-3 Vanina regarding the sale of the car and set up a meeting. By using all the division U/C units, officers were able to set up on the suspect meeting location. At the time of the meeting, officers took the suspect into custody with little effort, due to the surprise. Great job.

Foothill Sports

We fielded a flag football team and were run by Officer Mudgett, #30486. The team finished 2nd place in their division.

Holiday Party

Thanks to efforts of Capt. Seban and the station fund committee, we were able to have an outstanding party at the Odyssey Restaurant in Mission Hills. We had over 400 officers, family and friends attend, and master of ceremony was P-2 Jeffrey Burt, #33112. He is one of the best entertainers I have seen in several years. It was great to see all the joy and fun in everyone that was there. Thanks again to officers Lori Foreman, Jackie Landtiser, Carol Posner, Norm Dumais, John McAdam (Elvis), and D-2 Lindy Gligorijevic.

Hollywood Happenings

Only in Hollywood

Hollywood and its famous sign was presented to the world as the hot party place to be celebrating the next millennium. We were all there, working as usual.

In-Outs-N-Ups

Time to gaze about and see who joined us for the next thousand years. There is no one new here!! Yes it's true, but I see that some have left us. Gone to the Harbor is the legendary figure of a detective, Brian Gasparian, a man whose shoes no one could even try to fill. Det. Kevin Becker got captured by RMD. Because of his superior investigative talents no doubt.

Promoting and remaining is P-3 I. Ford. So we travel into the new year with these good men on the starting line-up.

Coach Jim Mateer is again out gathering the best runners that money can buy to repeat as the department's fastest mixed Baker to Vegas relay team. If you believe that you want to contribute to this effort then please step up.

Flag Football Champs

Hollywood's Cardiac Kids have accomplished the unbelievable task of defeating a Foothill team of young giants. Yes, with just 54 seconds left to play in the championship final game, quarterback Jim Plunkett passed to Mike Rimkus who grabbed the ball in the end zone to seal the title for Hollywood. Our department champs are: Ken Plunkett, Craig Allen, Mike Rimkus, Doug Humphrey, Doug Winger, Hector Diaz, Dan Gonzales, Mike Carl, Eliezer Morales, Mariano Gardy, Marty Tenison, Dan Fernandez, Derrick Prude, Nate Baez, and Melvin Campos.

Paintball Wars

Anyone wishing to participate in the upcoming paintball wars to be held on March 13th is asked to contact Officer Jeff Beck (HWD). The profits of the event will be donated to show support for recently injured Sgt. Art Holmes.

Christmas Party

This year's party celebration was held at the historic Roosevelt Hotel right here in Tinseltown. The joyous crowd was dressed in styles representing the glory that is Hollywood. To the delight of all, our very own Katrina Kroeker sang her rendition of "Over the Rainbow." Then everyone joined on the dance floor to move to the sounds of the band, "Down With Three." Prizes filled everyone's arms.

Hollywood Vice Christmas/Cup Party

The Hollywood Vice Section celebrated their annual Christmas and CUP party at the Staples Center. Celebration began with a gift exchange from their secret Santa. Lt. John Incontro, OIC, received a Watch Cap to help keep his cute little hairless head warm while running at the FBI Academy in Virginia. Sgt. Boe Adams received a wonderful gift for those who would like to meet him at the tree. Officer Mike Braun received a wine basket. Overall the gift exchange came off well.

Past Vice and PED officers returned to say hello and to present CUP to the officers leaving the section, Sgt. Chuck Buttitta, Officers Jim McConnell (who left the section to become Metro boys), Jennifer O'Brien (left to become a P-3 and will be making Sergeant soon), and a past sergeant, Paul Stropkai. The CUPS were presented to officers who have left the section in the past six months. The CUPS are symbolic of the officer's personality with an engraved nickname or saying that best endears those officers to the rest of the section. The cups were presented to Sgt. Bill Eaton (Yea, Bill, you finally got your cups! One for Vice Sergeant and the other for the PED Sergeant), Vice Officer Chuck Moore and PED Sergeant Alan Hamilton and Officers Jess Beltran, Hilary Colvin, Mike Nelson, Norm Peters, Al Rosa and Mike Snowden.

The most memorable event of the evening is the presentation of the PAGLIOTTI AWARD by the OIC, Lt. John Incontro. This selection process is initiated by votes of fellow peers and is selected by the officers' supervisors through the votes. The PAGLIOTTI AWARD is presented every year to a Vice or PED officers that has the same values as Jim Pagliotti, who was killed in the line of duty on June 22, 1987. Pagliotti was born April 26, 1959, appointed April 19, 1982, and was the 167th Los Angeles Police Officer who died on the job. Jim holds a special place in the hearts of Hollywood Vice. Several months prior to his assignment to Metropolitan Division he was assigned to the Vice Section and those who were closest to Jim described him as a man with a heart of fire who lived by the creed, "No Retreat, No Surrender."

All too often fallen officers are inappropriately described as being among the best of the best, the elite of the elite. Jim truly exemplifies the highest ideals associated with the best and the elite. To those who knew Jim, his death shook the belief that if you were really good you could survive anything. Personally, Jim had a great sense of humor, believed strongly in the bond of friendship and was inspirational to all that he met. This year the award was presented to Officer Mike Ruiz, Prostitution Enforcement Detail. Officer Ruiz has been with the PED Section since October of 1998 and received this award because his peers feel Mike displays the virtues that Jim Pagliotti held dear to him. Congratulations, Mike!

Then the big announcements, the honoring of our special employees: The Civilian of the Year: Nedra Stamps; the Supervisor of the Year: Glenn Hess; the Patrol Officer of the Year: Richard Oliva; the Detective of the Year: Michael Pelletier.

Detective of the Year 1999

Det. Pelletier is a 16-year veteran of the Department who is currently assigned to the Community Resources Against Street Hoodlums (CRASH) and Homicide Units. He is the Area's detective gang expert and the senior detective on the table. This unit is tasked with handling all crimes in Hollywood that involve gang members. Det. Pelletier ensures that every case is investigated in a thorough, professional manner. Det. Pelletier is without question one of the hardest working detectives in the city. He holds a supervisory peace officer standards and training (POST) certificate and as a detective supervisor he is responsible for not only handling a caseload but training other detectives as well. He possesses a wealth of investigative knowledge that he freely passes on to less experienced detectives and detective trainees. He maintains a close working relationship with uniformed CRASH personnel. He regularly attends CRASH roll call and provides training to them on crime scene preservation, interview and interrogation skills and any new legal updates. His supervisory responsibilities extend to administrative duties as well. Det. Pelletier has continually demonstrated a high caliber of professionalism and dedication throughout his career. He is admired not only for his investigative skills and work ethic, but for his positive, outgoing demeanor as well. It is a dedicated individual such as Mike who will carry the tradition of the Department into the 21st century. The supervisory and management team of Hollywood Area is proud to recognize Det. Michael Pelletier as the "Detective of the Year 1999."

OK, I lied, I did not retire in January as many had hoped I would. But then, this Department missed the boat. I told them all this preparation for Y2K was not necessary. My granddaughter told me the Pokémons would handle it all. And they did.

Sgt. Baron Von Hundertmark gave such a convincing lecture about not calling in sick during the maximum deployment that P-1 Brian Valle arrived with a case of the flu. He was so sick they placed him on the desk. Desk officer Marty Baggesgard wants to thank the powers that be, as he now is fighting off the flu bug. The situation got better as on January 1 the Baron himself failed to show for roll call. Seems his Chevrolet Camaro failed to respond to his orders to start and take him to work. That's what he gets for not driving a vehicle built in the fatherland. Since the Baron told us we would need a doctor's note if the troops failed to show, I guess they will insist on the note from his mechanic.

Tom Bibbs was asked to assist in the organization of our Van Nuys Baker to Vegas Running Team. Tom got so excited he ran to the fridge for another beer.

Ron Carter was awarded our three plus one opening created by the retirement of Tim Bergstrom. (Good luck to you, Tim. We will miss you.) I understand his first Sarah Project may be at Victory and Valjean. Bunch of 415/390s at the location every morning about 0800. Hey, wait, isn't that the time that our morning watch goes EOW? Maybe we can have Rich Thomas look into this.

Van Nuys Vice Officers Natalie Ostry and Karen Guillermo were checking out the unisex bathrooms at Woodley Park. The officers noted a male Hispanic walk away from his white Honda car, leaving the car uncured. Karen ran the suspect's ride and the vehicle returned as a West Valley stolen. The troops were summoned while the suspect was kept under observation as the suspect walked into the Sepulveda wilderness area. David Ham, Kevin Ahn, and Sgt. Andy Mathes responded. The suspect observed all this activity and took off into the bird sanctuary. This part of the park has dense foliage complete with lakes and marsh, an area designed with birds and animals in mind, not good guys chasing bad guys. The suspect must have remembered he was in Woodley Park as he removed all of his clothing except for his underwear. The suspect then climbed into the lake and hid in marsh grass. A K-9 responded as did Air 10 and then Air 3. Ken Plunkett and Dan Martin were dispatched as a search team into the weeds. I think the only one having any fun was "Hunka," the K-9. The Air Unit finally came low enough to locate our suspect. The fight was on. Everyone got wet, everyone got muddy, everyone got scratched, and everyone's clothing got torn. But only one will get to spend the New Year's behind bars. Good work by all. Hope the handler doesn't get a RFC for having a dog in a wilderness area clearly posted, "No dogs allowed."

Guadalupe Ruiz and Rene Moreno had a good caper that put a big time 211 suspect behind bars. Ruiz observed a Isuzu pick-up that matched the description of the suspect's vehicle as printed in a Van Nuys crime alert bulletin. Vice Officer Jennifer Hammer assisted in watching the suspect. The suspect was stopped and a ski mask and modified BB gun (made up to look like mini 14) was recovered from the suspect's vehicle. Good observation, guys. Another good caper. Fourteen thousand two-hundred and eleven DRs cleared in Van Nuys and West Valley.

The last Van Nuys holiday party of the nineties was the most successful party that I have attended. John Artes was pressed into service at the last minute by party organizer Paul Anderson. He did okay, even if he did start the festivities by insulting a 30-year veteran of this department by calling for a vote of who was older, Ron or yours truly. John, I am Ron's senior by some seven years. Now that he has established in front of everyone that I am old, what do I get for this honor? Nothing, not a bottle of Viagra, not a bottle of Geritol, not even a can of Ensure . . . nothing. Then, what does he do? He picks his own name for a prize. He picks Paul Anderson's name for a prize, then he picks Dick Powers for a television. Dick is sitting at my table on the left. Then he gives a trip to Laughlin to Sarkis Demirjian, who is sitting on my right. I was so depressed I should have joined Liza Phillips' table in drinking those wild exotic drinks. The drinks seemed to cure whatever that we were feeling. Then John gives way to a comic named "Sarge." This guy was great. He had us all in tears. If Lisa's table was sober, they would have understood the jokes, but then they didn't need anything further to get them going. The comedian hounded John wherever he went. What were you doing kneeling down in front of the captain??? A great time was had by all. If next year's party is anywhere near as great, plan to attend. And one last thing, Lisa, how was your view of the party from under the table???

The Van Nuys parking structure is finally completed and open to us all, after we part with twenty bucks. Well, a thirty-dollar-a-day parking ticket on Tyrone Street or a one-time twenty-dollar ding . . . not too hard to decide.

Now for two retractions as a request from two prior articles. After all, even the Times prints retractions. First, Wolfgang is not going to Australia. Maybe they would only allow people with reliable transportation in their country. And the second, Rich Compton did not have a heart attack. His entire body failed him . . . but Rich does report no smokes for two months and a loss of the 25 pounds. Keep up the good work, Rich.

18 SOUTHEAST

by Al Labrada
Southeast Division

On December 29, 1999, Officers Chris Hajduk and Francisco Dominguez were on patrol in the area of Wilmingtton and 109th Street. A female pedestrian flagged them down, she advised the officers that a male Hispanic carrying a handgun had chased her down then fled in an unknown direction. The victim had knowledge that the suspect was a known "Suicidal" gang member. Officers Hajduk and Dominguez, having knowledge of the area, responded to a known hangout location for this gang. A request for additional units was put out at which point Officers Richard Suviate, Kenneth Schmidt, Shawn Crabbe, Mary O'Callaghan, Charles Moreno and Victor Gamboa quickly responded.

The officers detained two of the residents of this location who were known gang members. It was then determined that one of the individuals was on parole and the other on house arrest. The officers conducted a parole search of the residence at which time they located a large quantity of narcotics, a rifle and a handgun. The officers then had the victim identify the suspect with the handgun. The officers booked one for violation of parole and the other for possession of a firearm. As always, good job!

Southeast Events

The Southeast annual "open house" went on as planned on Saturday, December 11. The days prior to the event were a bit wet and cold and therefore it was believed that the event would be cancelled. However, that Saturday

During the month of December several officers assigned to DARE were temporarily assigned to Southeast. On December 23, 1999, Officers Ferns and Montgomery, assigned to DARE, responded to a call of a suicidal citizen. Southeast Officers Dominguez and Lopez also responded at which point contact was made with the distraught resident, who was upset over a recent family death, no money, no gifts for the kids, and soon no place to live. The officers, having received toys to distribute to the community, gave the distraught resident toys for her kids. The officers determined that no actual attempted suicide occurred and therefore no further police action was warranted. Officers Ferns and Montgomery then proceeded to buy clothing items at a local swap meet, a small Christmas tree and additional toys. Sgt. Krajchir and Det. Lucie then reached into their pockets and purchased Christmas groceries for the citizen. The citizen was so appreciative she cried when she was presented with the items. Good job to these officers who took some initiative on Christmas.

I wanted to share a little snake story that is extremely rare here in this part of town. Recently, Officer Kessop and SLO Starkey were on patrol when an upset motorist flagged them down. The motorist was upset because his pet snake (later identified as Deviant) had crawled into his dashboard and refused to come out. Officer Kessop and her rapport with animals stepped in and took charge while Officer Starkey cowered behind the hood of the car saying, "No snake." The motorist finally cut open the dash at which time Officer Kessop bravely reached in and removed the non-venomous lizard-sized snake, while Officer Starkey watched from a distance. Good job on the community-based policing.

I would like to commend morning watch Officers Davila and Kim for their hawk-like observational skills and Officer Chacon for his cheetah-like running abilities. On December 3rd, Officer Davila and Kim were on patrol when they observed a suburban that had morning the clouds opened and the displays were put out. The displays included SWAT, SID, Communications, Recruitment, DARE, and the Southeast Reserve officers.

The highlight was the all-you-can-eat "chili cook-off." Community members and Capt. Bonneau cooked some of their best chili, which was sold to raise money for our elite "Baker to Vegas" running team. I would like to thank all of the Southeast employees that made this year's event a success.

A special thanks to Officer Arrant (DARE), Officer Casey (SWAT), Officer Proven (SWAT), Officer Guerero (EODD), Officer Pinchinat (SOE Reserve), Officer Griffin (SOE Reserve), Officer Goodman (SOE Reserve), PSR Nettolville (COMM), PSR Martin (COMM), PSR Bealy (COMM), Miguel Rivera (SID Prints), and Jesse Delgato (SID/Polygraph).

been used earlier in a robbery/rape in Southwest. The officers initiated a following, then a pursuit, which went over center dividers, fences and finally colliding into a sidewalk that would not move. The suspect ran westbound at which time Officer Chacon took over and caught the suspect. The victim of the robbery/rape later positively identified the suspect. Later the officers learned that this individual matched the description of an attempted murder on a Deputy Sheriff. The suspect was also positively identified in that case. Good job.

Speaking of animals, I would like to thank P-1 Martin and P-1 Lorenz for their direct involvement in the recent reduction of the small dog population in Southeast. These officers, who are now temporarily assigned to BSS, will soon be off probation and on the transfer to Animal Regulation. Well, considering the choices, it was better than choosing your partners.

Congratulations

I received my special Christmas gift a little late this year; on December 28th I got on one knee and became the luckiest guy on earth. Officer J. Koskelin (TRD) and I made it official. Millennium Madness

Well, it appears that the Y2K bug never actually hit us, and that's a beautiful thing. We had our command post ready to go and officers ready for action, but all was quiet on the western front. It seems that most people stayed home this New Year's Eve, afraid of all the "crazies" out there, but evidently the "crazies" were home too. So now we're off to the beginning of a new millennium. Hope it's a great one for everyone!

Recognition Day

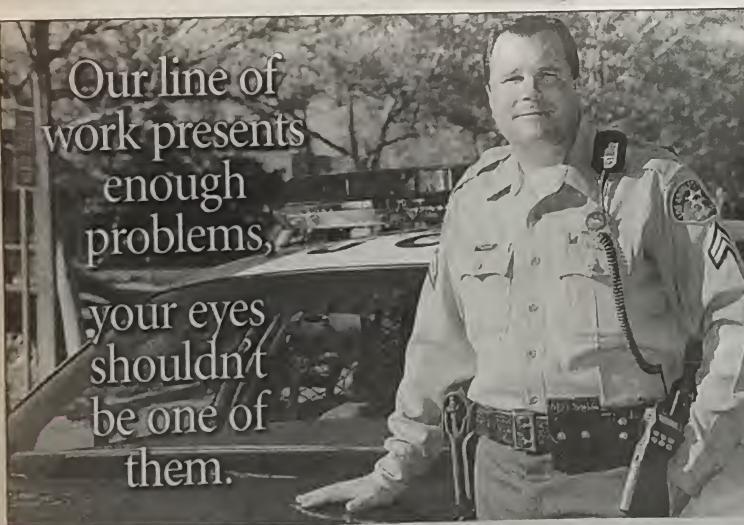

Los Angeles Police Department Recognition Day was held towards the end of the year, and we'd like to congratulate two Pacific Area sergeants who received awards. Sgt. Craig Brown received the Community Policing Medal for the Neighborhood Recovery Project he assisted a Senior Lead Officer with while in Harbor Division. The neighborhood was infested with gangs and hate-type crimes. The project received the International Webber/Seavy Community Policing Project Award.

Sgt. Ike Williams received the Police Star for saving a life on September

2, 1998. He was monitoring an unrelated Pacific Area pursuit in the area of Inglewood and Jefferson Blvds. He heard the loud crash, then observed the immediate aftermath of a major traffic collision. He saw a small compact vehicle, which was being pushed across the intersection by a full-size pickup truck, burst into flames. He requested the necessary assistance, then went to the aid of the victim trapped in the burning vehicle. Unaware that there was gasoline leaking from the vehicle, Sgt. Williams pulled the man from the wreckage, which exploded just after removing him. After pulling the victim to a safe location, a secondary explosion caused the vehicle to become completely engulfed in flames. The victim was an on-duty State Parole Agent, who recovered well from his fractured leg and additional lacerations. Sgt. Williams was commended for his high level of professional conduct, and disregard for personal safety. Congratulations, Sir!

It was June 2, 1983, I was a motorcycle Sergeant assigned to the P.M. watch at Valley Traffic Division. The watch started as usual with roll call and some funny antics from the motor officers. Officers Garner, Yurek, Krieder, Taylor, Henebry, Sawdon, Merit, Fagen, Hays, Peacock, and Bob Young were present along with Motor Sergeants Camp, Fesler, C. D. Brown, Grubbs, and our favorite watch commander, Lt. John S. Mitchell. Following roll call, we all departed for the field to patrol the vast territory of the sprawling San Fernando Valley. Among those rolling down the driveway of the Van Nuys Station that afternoon was Motor Officer Paul Verna wearing Badge #193.

Paul worked for me and was one of the most popular, professional, kind, sincere and highly respected officers assigned to the division. Paul always displayed a warm smile and was willing to accept any task or assignment without hesitation or complaint. Paul loved being a Los Angeles Police Officer and it showed in everything he said and did.

Paul knew he truly loved police work like no other profession. After first becoming an LAPD officer, he left the Department and joined the ranks of the Los Angeles City Fire Department. After a short time, he tired of the Fire Department

State Narcotics Officer Receives Endorsement from the Los Angeles Police Protective League for the 59th State Assembly Race

Since 1981, as a California Department of Justice, Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement Special Agent, Walt Allen has been working with the men and women of LAPD, never realizing that someday he would have the chance and opportunity to serve as a voice for them and hundreds of front line police officers throughout the state in the legislature. Walt is currently running for the 59th State Assembly seat as a Republican candidate and he is deeply honored to have the recent valued endorsement of the Los Angeles Police Protective League.

Some of the best times Walt had in his 24 years in the law enforcement profession was working with the men and

COUNCILMEMBER CHICK SEEKS SOLUTIONS FOR HIGH ACCIDENT INTERSECTIONS

Los Angeles, Calif.—During the last Los Angeles City Council session of 1999, City Councilmember Laura Chick obtained her colleagues' approval on her motion asking the City Department of Transportation (LADOT) and the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) to jointly examine what is being done to address citywide traffic problems at intersections that have been identified as high-accident intersections.

"We are all horrified when we hear about a fatal traffic accident occurring at one of our city's busy intersections. In addition to asking that drivers be more responsible and pedestrians be more observant, it's important to know all that the city is doing to reduce the number of accidents at these intersections," said Councilmember Chick. "Both the LADOT and the LAPD have worked to address this problem and I want to hear from them on what the city is doing."

According to recent reports, the statistics compiled by the LADOT and LAPD, Los Angeles is home to many surface street intersections characterized by heavy traffic flow and high rates of speed. Many of these intersections have high rates of automobile accidents as well. Department reports say further that engineering, enforcement and education are often cited as key means of reducing the number of

After earning his Bachelor of Science degree in Urban Planning from the California State Polytechnic University at Pomona in 1975, he served the California State University Police Department as a patrolman for the Fullerton campus a little over a year. He soon transferred to the Chino Police Department where he served as a Police Officer, Patrol Corporal, SWAT Team member and Field Training Officer.

In 1981, Walt was hired by the California Department of Justice, Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement as a Special Agent and assigned to the Los Angeles Field Office where he worked Narcotics in an undercover capacity for approximately seven years. In 1987, shortly after being promoted to Special Agent Supervisor, he was transferred to Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement Headquarters in Sacramento where he served as the Bureau Training Coordinator, Chief Combat Firearms Instructor and Special Agent Academy Officer Survival and Tactical Instructor. He also routinely serves as an instructor for the nationally recognized California National Guard National Interagency Counter Drug Institute (NICI) in San Luis Obispo, California.

automobile accidents in large metropolitan areas.

"The LADOT and the LAPD continually work to increase safety, improve traffic flow and ensure compliance with the rules of the road," Chick said. "Both departments have worked hard to develop and implement various means of addressing problems at the intersections cited by the departments in their previous reports. Now we can have the experts in both of these departments work together for solutions and then present their findings to the public."

Councilmember Chick's motion requests that the LADOT and LAPD present a joint report the City Council by February 1, 2000, on the scope and status of all city departments' efforts, both as individual departments and as a coordinated team to find solutions to the high traffic problems at intersections within the city limits.

TRANSIT BUS

by Lupita Alaniz
Transit Bus Division

Whew! We can all breathe a sigh of relief that we made a safe transition into the 20th century. From the perspective of citywide Transit Bus officers, it was an unexpectedly quiet New Year's Eve. Thanks to all of those individuals who decided to cross the threshold of the New Year by staying at home with their loved ones.

Sports

The rivalry continues between Transit Bus B and C basketball teams. Officer Leslie Rogers can attest that there's definitely no biases on the basketball court as she took quite a hit at the last game against Transit Bus C team. But as the skilled player that Rogers is, she knows that it's all part of the game. Ultimately, the B team won that game, however, the C team refuses to stay down. Hoo-rah! Stay tuned . . .

Bus-ted

Transit officers shed some positive light in the media. With help from a concerned citizen, GHOST officers and TSS were able to shut down a major counterfeit ring involving fraudulent bus passes valued at thousands of dollars. During an ongoing investigation, officers prearranged several buys of the counterfeit MTA monthly passes from the suspect. Upon verification of the fraudulent passes, officers obtained a search warrant of the suspect's home where they encountered and recovered an elaborate setup for preparing and distributing these false passes that bulk the MTA out of millions of dollars every year. Way to go, guys!

Happy Birthday!!!

Birthday wishes to Officers N. Ayson, A. Acosta, C. Del La Cruz, J. Gonzales, M. Gordon, T. Kimrey, B. Lafferty, J. Schwedler and Sgt. J. Allen from your loving family here at Transit Bus Division. Yes, we remem-

Congratulations!

Not once again, but twice again, we have additions to our Transit Bus family. Officer Omar Bazulto and his wife, Rachel, gave birth to their first baby, Amanda Nicole Bazulto on December 21, 1999, at 1:01 a.m. Weighing in at 7 pounds, 2 ounces, and 19 1/2 inches long (Watch out, Omar, she's catching up on you already). Officer Tom Brown, and his wife, Shawn, gave birth to their second child, Blake Alexander Brown, on December 30, 1999, at 1:24 p.m. Blake weighed in at 7 1/2 pounds. Congratulations on your wonderful Christmas presents, new babies, and what a great tax write-off!

Good Luck

Sgt. Milewski, it was a short ride, but we're glad to have had you here at Transit Bus Division. Sgt. J. Willis is off to Newton Division for a little action. Be safe, you'll be missed by many. Also leaving this fun-filled division are Officers M. Basaker, and R. Lakin to CTD, T. Blankenship to Club Dev, and R. Hillard to STD. Remember, "Every exit is an entry somewhere else."

Boarding Bus Division

Sgt. N. Jensen from Central Division, PII Officers M. Andrews, M. Berumen, J. Carrillo, A. Downs, J. Fleming, E. Jimenez, D. Kong, M. Perry, L. Torchia, J. Wong and E. Yates. Welcome people to Transit Bus Division. Hope you enjoy your ride.

In closing, I'd like to wish you all a happy and safe new year. From the words of Joseph Addison, "What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity."

Welcome back, friends and other assorted ne'er do wells. It's time once again for your own divisional reporter to do what he does so well . . . (in other words, it's time to shovel it high and deep for the first time in the new year).

Right then, here we go . . .

Birthday Wishes From TRD for Lt. Davis and Sgt. Morales as They Turn 40!!

Oh, they're not gonna like me for that . . . especially since Sgt. Morales only turned 35. However, it is true, recently

Sgt. Elaine Morales and Lt. Eric Davis both celebrated birthdays. On December 10, 1999, Sgt. Morales celebrated her 35th year, and on January 1, 2000, Lt. Eric Davis got over the hump and began picking up speed as he celebrated his fortieth. Congratulations to both of our wizened, aged, elderly veterans as they hobble to their tables and gum their birthday puddings. (Did I mention that they were old? I've got pictures to prove it.)

See? No, really, you two wear it well! Whaddya mean I get Tuesdays and Thursdays off next D.P.? Lighten up for Pete's sake.

While we're on the subject of birthdays, Officer Chris Marsden and his wife, Cassie, are celebrating the birth of their new son. Jake Thomas Marsden was born on December 22, 1999, at 1055 p.m. Jake weighed in at a healthy 8 pounds, 5 ounces (which is a little more than what his father weighs now, I understand). Congratulations. Mother and son are doing fine, and Chris is using this as an excuse to stay away from work for a while on "paternity" leave. We believe you, Chris . . . bonding with your son and all that . . . sure. (Kinda hard to bond with your son when you're on the golf course, isn't it?)

Snowboarding Casualties

Well, it had to happen. Our first winter sports casualty of the new year (actually occurred in 1999, but who's gonna tell?) Yes, Officer Billy Brockway (of the TRD Training Cadre fame) wiped out while ripping the slopes at Kirkwood, in Tahoe, Calif. Billy bit it and broke his right arm and his left elbow. I understand the ski patrol had to call an ambulance, because they were laughing so hard that they were having trouble breathing. Luckily administration of some hi-flow O₂ straightened them right out.

We feel sooooo sorry for you, Billy . . . seriously we do. Here, shake on it (ooooh, I kill me). Sorry there were no pictures available at press time, but it was funny.

Christmas Party!

Another holiday season is gone, and with it went most of our waistlines. And part of the reason for that problem, no doubt is all of the Christmas parties that we attend each year. The best of these (for me, anyway) this year was our very own Transit Group Christmas Party.

Music, friends, food and (lotsa) drink went into making this a party to remember, as did one of the games where 18 officers formed three different teams and stuffed balloons into the red pajamas of their teammates. Officers Malcolm Thomas, Sam Shepard and Jessie West were subjected to torture as other officers shoved balloons into their P.J.s. They also stood straight and tall as a somewhat less steadied hand popped each balloon with a sharp instrument as a method for counting those balloons.

Officer Thomas won the competition, but only because a balloon popping fight erupted between the other two teams.

Officer Woodie Rogers won the curse for two (oops, sorry, typo—that's CRUISE for two . . . my bad), and an anonymous officer donated two Kings hockey tickets to the cause. Sgt. Russ Wong won those. (Good seats, too . . . two rows off the glass. God BLESS the officer that donated those seats. He should be knighted! No, better, he should be praised and placed on a pedestal so people could better see his kindness.) Okay, maybe just a thank you and a kick on the @#$!

The USC Town and Gown was a beautiful setting even for me as a Notre Dame fan. Aside from the fact that I had to wear asbestos underwear in order to keep from spontaneously combusting while on USC grounds, even I had a great time.

Does asbestos underwear cause colon cancer? I hope not . . .

Hasta . . .

This month, TRD says sad goodbyes to Officers Bowens and Shepard. Officer Bowens is off to expand his horizons with West Traffic Division, and Sam Shepard is off to the body building unit. Whoops, sorry, he's off to OSB CRASH. Everyone here is sorry to see them go. Well, everyone is sorry to see Officer Bowens go. Sam they were pushing out with broomsticks before chasing him down the street with lighted torches. It was an ugly sight.

So good luck to our two dear departments, and as for the unfortunate souls at their new home divisions, well, we tried to warn you.

a local radio station. The question was: What was Jennifer Lopez's latest hit song? Of course it was "Jail House Rock!"

Here's an inspiring Christmas story that rivals all others. Just before Christmas, Officers Stephen Slinsky and Mike Tomeloso were assigned an ambulance traffic. The victim, a ten-year-old Korean boy, was transported to Cedars Sinai Hospital by ambulance. While conducting their investigation, the officers learned that the boy's permanent two front teeth were knocked out due to the collision.

As the boy and his mother became distraught, the two officers asked the physician if they found the boy's teeth would he be able to surgically reinsert them. The doctor responded that he would be able to reinsert the teeth only if the officers returned within the next half hour. The officers raced back to the location and searched for the boy's missing teeth. The officers searched frantically and miraculously located the missing teeth. The officers returned to Cedars Sinai in time. The physician was able to successfully reinsert the boy's teeth!

Now that's a story where Officers Slinsky and Tomeloso both went far beyond the call of duty. Because of them, there's a little Korean boy out there smiling brightly.

We welcome the return of Dan Kimble to the WTD family. Dan, you couldn't stay away!

Don't forget to get a gift for your Valentine this month. That includes your watch commander and den sergeant! See ya next month!

I apologize to everyone that this February article will be shorter than normal, but I was on vacation and did not have access to all the latest gossip.

Christmas Party

On Saturday, December the 18th, approximately 240 of Northeast's finest attended our annual Christmas party at the Wyndham Hotel in Monrovia. Everyone enjoyed the buffet style dinner, the company of their coworkers and the music. (Why was the bar line continually longer than the food line?) There were plenty of raffle prizes given out to the winners in attendance. Sgt. Joe Oliveri did a very commendable job as the master of ceremonies. The other Joe, Olmedo type, also did a very commendable job as our D.J. All sworn and civilian members of the Christmas party committee did an excellent job of putting the whole event together. Please support any and all Christmas party committee fund-raisers this year so that we can have another great party!

The Community Relations Office (headed by Sgt. Sandy Rosenberg) handed out toys at their annual toy drive on December the 18th. A few hundred of Northeast Division's underprivileged children were given gifts in the hope that their Christmas would be a little brighter.

That's all the gossip that I know for now. Health and happiness to all of you. C-ya next month.

M.S.D. Notes

by Roger C. Deranian
Management Services Division

First of all, congratulations to Mark and Jackie Ro on the birth of their son, Jason, on December 15, 1999. Mark is a researcher in the Special Projects Unit. Jason weighed in at 6 pounds, 8 ounces, and was 19 inches long. Everyone is doing fine.

The next piece of information might be good information for both supervisors and officers. I was looking up the definitions of "vandalism" as listed in the Penal Code and in the Attorney General's California Peace Officers' Legal Sourcebook. It seems the definitions are similar except for two things. The Penal Code refers to "maliciously causing damage or destruction," while the Sourcebook simply refers to "causing damage or destruction without the owner's permission." I wrote to the Attorney General and asked for an explanation of the variation of their publication from the Penal Code. I received a letter back that said that what I was asking for was a legal opinion, and except to specific government officials, they do not give legal opinions! I wrote back once again and said I did not see how asking for an explanation for something they wrote and sell as a reference publication is asking for a legal opinion.

As of this writing, I have not heard anything further from the Attorney General's Office.

Consequently, it might be prudent to view the information in the Sourcebook with some skepticism. If the information cannot be referenced and verified, it seems there could be officer and city liability issues if the information is used. If I hear anything back, I will put it into a subsequent article.

In my previous article, I mentioned that it seems a number of people don't know what Management Services Division (MSD) is or what we do; most seem to think we are just a bunch of geeks. Well, that may be true, but we are geeks with a purpose! Management Services Division is divided into four sections, and I'll briefly talk about each section over the next few months. I work for the Special Projects Section (SPS) which has two units, the Special Projects Unit and the Evaluation Unit. The Special Projects Unit completes a number of research projects, does product evaluations, and replies to a variety of outside inquiries. The Evaluation Unit also does research on a number of subjects, ideas and issues, reviews articles submitted as part of the Department's publishing program, and works on a variety of other projects.

Additionally, MSD, along with elements from the Inspection and Control Section of Administrative Group, staffs the Department Operations Center (DOC). We train on the various tasks and functions of the DOC about twice each month. So now you know, yes, I admit it, it was us asking the Areas and traffic divisions for all those personnel and vehicle status reports during Y2K!

Happy birthday wishes to the following MSD personnel: January: Art Gomez, Linda Ulibarri, Mark Ro, Joe Hiltner, and Martha Reyes. February: Sayo Hosohama, Vangie Gomez, Kim Whitlow, Lori Blackwell, and Carrie Katsumata.

thing. For example, Officer B. Gregson and myself contacted a couple of interesting types outside the board and care facility where they reside. They appeared to be in the process of trying to smoke something. After they saw us, they hastily abandoned the effort, but we decided to contact them just the same.

The gentleman I interviewed was about three bricks shy of a load, and when I asked his name, he informed me it was "Judas Priest." When I told him I was a fan of his music, he told me his friend was none other than "George Thorogood." I guess we now know what happens to rock musicians when they fall on hard times. They take psych meds and hang out in Wilshire Division.

Yes, the happy couple will be remarried in Las Vegas, Nev., and Elvis himself (or a near replica thereof) will be giving the bride away. Their daughter, Samantha, will serve as flower girl, and the Cromers are expecting their second child in March, 2000.

Whew! We made it to the oh's, the double 00's, the zeros, without so much as a blip on the radar screen . . . (God answers prayer) . . . Now, about all that tuna . . .

The entire LAPD is to be commended for their dedication and preparation for Y2K. Captain Michael Hillmann, Lt. Tom McDonald, Sgt. Mike Carodine and Officer Steve Lurie (among others) put in extra time and effort on behalf of West L.A. and its citizens. For that we say thank you!

I invite you now to follow me upstairs as I venture into detectives territory. By the time you read this, Det. Trevor Stokes will have officially left West L.A. for Media Relations as a "beat in Jamaica, but hey . . .) Congratulations to all of the aforementioned couples!

On a less than happy note, our PSR L. Ortiz left us on January 14th and returned to "the dungeon." Her ready smile, her cheery disposition, and her ability to keep track of ten things at once made her an invaluable asset to us. Letty, you will be missed!

My final thoughts have to do with Valentine's Day (Feb. 14). As everyone who reads this knows, this profession is very demanding and time-consuming. Quite often, the people who suffer from our divided attention are the ones we love and care about most. Even though Valentine's Day is on the calendar once a year, it is one of those special occasions which should be observed considerably more often. After all, as good as this job is, if it weren't for our families and loved ones, most of us would be less than happy and productive. The bottom line is this: take this opportunity to tell the person(s) you are close to how much you care for them. Then, share your feelings on a regular basis. After all, when it comes down to it, who we have in our lives are more important than what we have in our lives. See you next month!

THE LUCKY 13

by Gail Ryan
Newton Division

February marks the 75th anniversary of Newton Division and the third year in our new station. This milestone in Newton Division's history will be celebrated on Friday, October 13, 2000, at a reunion of all past and present Newton employees. It will be held at the original Police Academy in Elysian Park. Contact Det. Baitx, Newton Homicide, 323-846-6556, for further.

Over the years Newton officers have seen and been involved in a major part of L.A. history, earning the division the nickname "Shoot'n Newton." The name comes from the number of civilian and officer

Det. 3 Dwaine L. Roberson #17806, Appt. 10/2/723—Ret. 1/15/00.

... in the area over its 75-year history. But, throughout it all, Newton has lost only one officer in the "line of duty." Officer Norbert Huseman was gunned down in mid-December, 1945, while answering a neighbor dispute call in a housing project at 7th & Enterprise. He died eight days later on December 31, 1945, of gunshot wounds to his stomach, leaving behind a wife and four small children.

And, how more fitting that this month also marks my retirement after 32 years, 8 months of service with the LAPD. My family moved to Newton Division in 1914. And, after my father graduated from the police academy in 1942, he was assigned to Newton Station. There has been a member of my family at Newton Station since 1942 till now. It will be like leaving home for the first time when I walk out the station's door for the last time on January 28, 2000. But, I will have many fond memories of the division and the old station, from childhood through adulthood, to take with me. As a little girl in the early '50s, I used to stand on the corner of 5th & Los Angeles Streets on Saturday mornings and watch my uncle direct traffic. During the summer my father would take me to the police academy. My brother and I would use the pool while dad qualified. As he left he would always say, "Don't talk to the trustees." Later we all would get an ice cream cone at the lunch counter followed by a trip to the old station to pick up his paycheck. I guess I have loved this job since the first day I entered the old Newton Station as a little girl. I know I have loved it since I entered the police academy in May, '67, even though policewomen were not accepted as equals. Though he's been gone over 25 years now, my father lived long enough to see me graduate from the academy and eventually get transferred to Newton Division. We were able to work together for one year before he retired and passed away. As a policewoman, I had taken a separate test and attended separate academy classes from the men. I also wore skirts and heels, worked the jail or juvenile and was not allowed to promote past sergeant. Some of us were lucky and were loaned to vice or narcotics. And, after 1972, at least 20 of us went back through the police academy for three months to become field certified, including myself in 1982 when I had 15 years on the job. During my career I worked Harbor women's jail, Venice detectives, Georgia St. Juvenile and "J" car, 77th patrol, Public Affairs, and Newton Division with loans to Hollywood vice and the MTA buses undercover. And, I still hold the record for most cars impounded in a day (23) with over 400 in one month, while working Newton's impound car. So stop by and say goodbye to me, Policewoman Gail Ryan, on Thursday, March 9, 2000, at the Griffith Park Ranger Station at 1600 hours and to Det. Randy Baird who retired January 1, 2000. Contact Det. Baitx at 323-846-6556, Newton Homicide, for tickets.

Newton Detectives also bade farewell to D-3 Dwaine L. Roberson, #17806, who retired on January 15, 2000, after 27 years of service. Dwaine had worked both Newton patrol and detectives.

Newton officers and detectives were sad to learn of the death of Det. 2 Jeffrey Esparza, #26374. Jeffrey, who had worked Newton's Clear unit, passed away at home on Saturday, December 18, 1999. Det. Esparza was born on December 29, 1963, in San Fernando, Calif. He was appointed to the Department on November 14, 1988. And, he is survived by his wife, Lorna, daughter, Sawyer, and son, Bryan, along with his brother, David and sister, Yolanda.

North news

by John Marsden
North Hollywood Division

Greetings everyone and welcome to the new millennium. Everyone here at North Hollywood wishes you a safe, productive, and happy new year.

Homeless Shelter Burglarized

Sometime between December 10th and 13th, the Transitional Living Center (a homeless shelter) was burglarized. Primary items taken were children's toys, which were going to be distributed to the children in the shelter. When officers were made aware of the crime, they immediately took action to render the problem. Sgt. Bill Martin, Billy Row, and Reserve Officer Esther Niell from Community Relations Office were instrumental in organizing the outpour of donations and the distribution of the toys. Thanks to the extra effort of a few officers and the support of the community, the children of the shelter were able to enjoy Christmas.

Holiday Party

Our holiday party was held at Knollwood Country Club on Sunday, December 12, good food and music were topped only by great company. We were entertained by Mr. Jim O'Brien, a comedian who hits the local Comedy Stores and frequents Las Vegas show rooms. Thanks for those of you who supported the North Hollywood Area by attending our party.

Valley Relay

On December 4, North Hollywood officers competed in the Valley Invitational Run. This is an annual event where all Valley divisions are invited to compete in a relay from Foothill Station to Devonshire Station and back. North Hollywood fielded one of their finest teams ever to compete in this race. They took first place, finishing over 10 minutes ahead of the second place team. This was the third time in four years the North Hollywood team has won this race. Congratulations to R. Watson, C. Suzuki, D. Martinez, M. Bess, D. Delgado, C. Camacho, J. Wilson, J. Gaseto, M. Sandvig, J. Caprarelli, A. Hernandez, S. Gann, J. Miller. Special thanks to support N. Reeves, D. Chavez, and M. Jensen.

Sgt. Bill Martin of CRO "one-upped" John Marsden in the grandson race. His daughter-in-law, Meagan, gave birth to William Francis Martin IV on New Year's Day. His was the first baby born in Ventura County in the new millennium. Grandpa and papa Bill (P-1 in DEV Div) are shaky, but mother and child are doing fine. Vital stats: 6 pounds, 12 ounces, 21 inches.

Congratulations to Kathy McClements, who gave birth to Dillon James, 8 pounds, 21 inches, on November 9, 1999. Mother and son are doing great.

This month you get the short version as we are just coming off the holidays. Things around the office have been very quiet with so many people off on vacation or recovering from that terrible strain of flu that has been going around.

In-N-Out

Rumor has it that Kathy Lyles is back from Idaho and trying to come back to her job as the captain's secretary. My guess is that Kathy was just bored with retirement and missed all her BAD buddies. Kathy was an excellent employee and we would be lucky to get her back.

Help Wanted

If anybody knows a PSR who would like to work at a specialized detective division in the building, please call Det. Bella at 485-2527. We are looking for a qualified individual looking for a challenging assignment. No, this is not an ad for the U.S. Army. Just to make sure we get the right person, Capt. New Year's Eve and Y2K

Well, is everybody as unshocked as I am about how much of a non-event New Year's Eve/Y2K turned out to be? I probably shouldn't complain, it could have been worse. We stood around all day with little to do. The citizens that came out to the event were friendly and in festive moods. I was assigned with my partner, Lawayne Stift to work the mid-day watch in Harbor Division. The event was the city's millennium party at the Vincent Thomas Bridge. The local supermarkets and the council office gave out numerous free admission tickets. The event turned out to be a super dud. The event had a low turnout probably due to the weather, which was cold and blustery. I also believe many people didn't come out because they were worried about the possible violence, terrorism and unknown possible Y2K problems. Many average citizens had to work that evening just to avoid potential problems. I'm just glad all the predicted gloom and doom never occurred. I am also in the market for a new portable generator with low mileage for any of you now getting rid of your Y2K supplies. You can also tell all the sur-

Commendable Incident

I would like to thank Det. Martin from our Robbery Specials Section for the following. On July 26, 1999, at approximately 0700 hours, six males robbed the Lakeview Market located in Foothill Division. The suspects, armed with handguns, tied up all the employees and customers. Not only did the suspects rob these victims, they were also able to gain entry to the market's safe and remove the currency. The suspects made good their getaway in a U-Haul truck.

RHD detectives, along with several Foothill Division detectives responded to the crime scene and collected valuable evidence that would later assist in the identification of two of the suspects. Based on this information, detectives requested the assistance of our friends from SIS. On October 20, 1999, the suspect's vehicle containing several individuals was located in Hollywood Division. The detective that located the suspect vehicle requested the assistance of a patrol unit to make a felony stop. Hollywood Officers Bunch, #24244 and Marmolejo, #30061, unit 6A97, along with Rampart Officers Friesenhahn, #33554 and Ogas, #32691, unit 2A21, responded to the detective's location. First to Know, Last to Go!

Department Command Post & Communications Div.

by Sgt. Shannon Paulson
Department Command Post & Communications Division

Deployment Period 11 brought about a new addition to Communications Division. The Department Command Post was activated, assuming many of the responsibilities formerly held by Detective Headquarters Division. Along with this new responsibility came the transfer of 17 new sworn personnel: Sgts. Matthew Mulvihill, Barry Blocker, and Shannon Paulson; Officers Camille Armstead, Tracy Callis, Scott Dewitt, Tenisha Dobine, Minor Jimenez, Victoria Kroyan, Stacy Leal, Martha Ramirez, Art Rodriguez, Ricky Rodriguez, Kevin Snaer, Sam Rodriguez, Dean Thompson, and Jennifer Selleck were all surprised to find themselves on the transfer. We were welcomed warmly by Communications Division personnel.

The first week saw most of the crew taking a crash course on DCP functions, "learning by doing." At the same time we scrounged the Department finding the items necessary to outfit our own office. Built into a corner of a subfloor of Communications, which originally held only backup and training RTO consoles, the DCP office was essentially built from the ground up. We quickly learned that asking nicely for supplies and equipment doesn't always get you a quick response, but adding, "This unit is being developed at the Chief's orders" gets unbelievably speedy results! Also within the first couple of weeks, AM Watch personnel came up with what is now the official motto of the DCP: "First to know, last to go!"

The Department Command Post, now fully functional, is located at the very bottom of City Hall East, floor P-5, directly underneath the Communications floor (you don't really get any lower in the city of Los Angeles). It has taken some time to become accustomed to working in this underground environment. The facilities were originally built as a bomb shelter, with the capability to withstand a nuclear detonation. Earthquakes, I've been told, should be no problem. Of course, the above ground floors of City Hall East might not fair so well, and should they come crashing down above us, it would probably be weeks before we were dug out. Then, of course, there is the nearby underground tributary for which Spring Street was originally named, so the possibility of drowning is always present following a major earthquake.

In the early days of December, Command Post and CDC personnel learned of the plight of Carolynn, a single mother with four young girls who was also caring for her parents. Her mother had recently undergone a double amputation of her legs due to complications caused by diabetes. This single mother was struggling to make ends meet as the only breadwinner for this family of seven, and was no doubt going to find it difficult to make the holiday season something special for them. Personnel from the DCP and CDC set about "adopting" the family, and within a scant two weeks had raised over $1,000 in cash and gift contributions, as well as additional donations of food stuffs and clothing. On Friday, December 17, representatives of both entities delivered these gifts and items, along with a Christmas tree complete with lights and ornaments, to Carolynn and her family. They were surprised and thrilled with the scope of the contributions, and very thankful for the outpouring by LAPD personnel.

Dateline

Devonshire Division

Comings and Goings

We bid a fond farewell to our Devonshire Dateline reporter, Det. Elaine Dewberry. Elaine has been working the Burglary Table at Devonshire since April, 1998, and just this month received a promotion to DII and a new position with Internal Affairs. We extend our congratulations and wish her the best of luck in all her future endeavors. We'll miss you, Elaine.

It is with equal sadness that we bid farewell to three of Devonshire Area's long-time Detectives, D3 Russ Lyons, with 30 years, and D2 Joe Adolph, with 32 years, both from our Auto Table, are pulling the plug for the new year and retiring. Joining them is D1 "Siete Mares" Mares from CAPS, with 27 years on the job. Add that up, folks, 89 years of experience between them! Gentlemen, your shoes will be hard to fill. We wish you good health and Godspeed. For those of you that would like to celebrate the occasion, there will be a three-fer dinner at the Disabled Veterans hall in Canoga Park on Thursday, February 24, 2000. Contact Tom Broad or Kenny Crocker at Devonshire Detectives (818-756-8291) for details and tickets.

PSR Charlene Vawter, our Property Disposition Clerk, is also leaving us after 27 years for the greener pastures of retirement.

We wish you all the best!

Sgt. John Delvecchio has transferred to Training Division and he is taking P3s Barbara Matzoll and Thomas O'Brien with him. We also say so long to Lee Perry, Heather Kowalezyk, and Todd Holmberg, going to Central, North Hollywood and VTD, respectively. We welcome the following newcomers: Det. Paul Morgan and Officers Louis Cabrera, Fred Cueto, Michael Guttila, Marc Diamond, Darryl Williams, Phillip Bruno and Charles Kim. P2 Robert Bishop from Rampart is promoting in as a new P3. We welcome all of you to the Devonshire family. I hope I haven't forgotten anyone!

News From the Wet Set Gazette

Det. Rhonda Von Gober from Devonshire Burglary and her husband, Det.

Rhonda Sydney, Samantha & Ron Von Gober (DSD Fugitives).

Ron Von Gober, from DSD Fugitives, welcomed a new addition to their family on December 5, 1999. Her name is Sydney Elizabeth and she weighed in at 6 pounds, 5 ounces, and was 18-1/2 inches tall. Baby Sydney was born on her big sister Samantha's birthday, while Samantha was celebrating turning 2 years old. And that's a two-fer! Mom, baby, dad and sister are doing great!

Speaking of additions, P3 Dave Smith (with our Mac Table) and his wife, Lauren, are expecting the arrival of their second bundle of joy, which will probably have occurred by the time this is printed. Their 2-1/2 year-old daughter will have a baby brother. Names are still being discussed, but "Chandler" seems to be the likely choice.

We also hear that PI William Martin III and his bride had the first millennium baby in Simi Valley too!! He is William Martin IV and got a bunch of great stuff for being the first recorded arrival. We will hopefully have a photo next month.

Congratulations to all the proud parents!

We are still waiting for news on Eric and Kim Moore and Mark and Barbara Johnson's deliveries.

LAPD Racing Team

The LAPD Racing Team, headed up by our own Tony Foti, recently returned from an 8-day trip to Wasilla, Alaska (that's north of Anchorage for us flatlanders) where they took the title in the interstate competition. Hoorah! Next up, Winter Nationals in Pomona in February and a match race in Oahu in July. (Hey, where do I sign up for this team?)

Holiday Basket Giveaway

Officer Sandoval down at the Youth Center reports a successful P.A.L.S. holiday basket giveaway this year. With the contributions of area residents, local businesses, and funds from P.A.L.S., holiday meal baskets including turkeys, canned goods and fresh fruit were distributed to the 180 participants. The Youth Center also hosted a holiday party, complete with cakes and cookies and a visit from Santa Claus who distributed toys to the approximately 100 children who attended. The toys were also donated by Northridge Area residents and businesses. No shortage of good will here. The spirit of giving is alive and well in Devonshire Division.

Explorer News

From the 1st to the 23rd of December, Devonshire Area Law Enforcement Explorers were hard at work providing security at the Northridge Fashion Center parking lot, as well as providing crowd control at the Chatsworth and Granada Hills holiday parades. Officers Ingrid Langrehr and Sid Gonzalez deployed the Explorers in groups of 20 per day, working evenings after school and all day over the holiday weekends. We didn't see many BFMVs during their watch and we figure they can certainly take some of the credit there!

Passings

On a much sadder note, we regret to announce the passing of our own Sgt. Robert Taylor, #20063, on December 21, 1999. He "went home" to family in Pennsylvania and a memorial service was held here at Devonshire Station on January 13, 2000.

We at Devonshire hope you all had a wonderful holiday and we extend our best wishes for a safe and prosperous new year!

Congratulations!

Warmest congratulations go out to Officer Cynthia Deinstein and Officer Troy Abordo (aka James Woods) on their recent promotion to PIII. Those new stripes look good!

Also, congratulations go out to Steven Paysinger, Capt. Earl Paysinger's son, on his selection as part of the Long Beach Press Telegram "Dream Team." He was one of the few football players picked to represent the Long Beach, San Pedro, and South Gate area. More bragging rights go out to Mike Pratt, son of Lt. Terry Pratt, who has recently completed basic flight school in Pensacola, Florida, and is now in Mississippi training to fly F-18 jets. Speaking of Lt. Terry Pratt, congratulations on 30 years of service to this Department. Sir, you've set the standard!

We're Baaack!

It's the first week in February, and all DARE officers are present and accounted for back at DARE Division. During the winter break when the schools were not in session, DARE officers went back into the field to work in three separate geographic divisions. We, as DARE personnel, were fairly evenly distributed between Van Nuys, Southeast and Central Divisions. Our deployment started on December 20th and went through January 7th. We were assigned as A-cars, X-cars, Z-cars, footbeat details and detectives. Once those of us that have been at DARE Division for over a year figured out how to operate the new MDTs, we were able to go and do some good police work and have a really good time in the process. It will be a challenge to figure out what we are going to do when the court time starts coming in from all the tickets we wrote, people we arrested and reports we did, but it was worth it because we were able to help our brother and sister officers during one of the busiest times of the year. We would like to thank all the officers of those divisions we worked with for their warm welcome and making going back to patrol such a rewarding experience.

When we returned to our division, I heard a lot of really good "war" stories about narco and GTA arrests, and wacky radio calls that we will all remember. However, there was one story that really

A "12A15" Legend

In the early 1980s most of the "O.G. 77th Cops of 2000" came to 77th Street. We are few, but we are still here and remain dedicated because of officers like our friend Roger Lewis, #14017. When you come to a division with a legendary reputation, you look for people like Roger, because you know that it is through officers like him you will gain the knowledge and expertise needed to survive in the streets of 77th Division. He has indeed been a mentor to many. Roger joined the LAPD in 1968. Early in his career he worked Newton and then came to 77th and here he remained. He took a leave in November, 1979, but was back by February of 1981. Just in time to be one of the few mentors needed for this legendary Division.

Roger was assigned to the basic car 12A15 (morning watch) for just about his entire career. When I promoted to Senior Lead Officer (for 12A15) in 1986 Roger became one of my mentors. The man knew everything about the area. He knew who the bad guys were, and he knew where to go to find them. If there was a crime problem in his area, he took care of it. If you were a probationer of his, you were one of the "chosen few." If you were assigned to this car as a "no time on the job PII," you wanted to be just like him. He showed us the meaning of teamwork, and he instilled in me that although there is a star on my sleeve patch, that only brings on additional responsibilities. The star is below the two stripes, you are a training officer first to your probationers and younger officers. They are the ones who will come to your aid when you put out that "back-up," "assistance" or "help call." This is an officer who has been commended time and time again for his dedication to this Department. A recipient of the "Police Star" for saving the life of a young child, and even after sustaining a serious IOD injury to his back and neck, chose to stay on at 77th Division and work in our training unit in hopes of providing some beneficial input to our younger officers.

I would also like to thank Roger's wife, Corinne, for putting up with this divisional family for all these years.

The Millennium was no problem for 77th... Bring on that Democratic Convention.

Happy 2000, No Problem at 77th Street

77th Street welcomed in a new millennium with no problem. Prior to our watches we gathered together for various briefings. We were blessed in prayer, as a Divisional family, by our Divisional Chaplain, Rev. Ferrol Robins, and after the blessings we feasted on an incredible potluck brought in by the officers.

Congratulations to all of our Divisional Patrol Officers who took the time to educate our community on the seribusiness of firing weapons on this New Year's celebration. Many of you had to adjust your days off to accommodate these community events. Your sacrifice made the difference! May the blessings you have given this community come back to you and your family.

The "Catwoman" lives, just ask Officer Gary Verge and Officer Erika Spence. While on routine patrol on Western Ave. they observed a woman down, lying on her stomach, in the number two lane of this major boulevard. Being the diligent officers that they are, they stopped to see what the problem was. As they approached the possible victim to ascertain if she was OK, she rolls over and appears to be clutching a deceased cat (deceased for some time). She quickly jumps up and begins to chase Officer Spence around her police vehicle attempting to hit her with this dead cat. When attempts to catch Officer Spence are exhausted, she sets her sights on Officer Verge, who is not going to be a part of this "dog and cat" game, and he utilizes his O.C. (Witnesses to the Use of Force said you had to be there.) The suspect is transported to Daniel "Feline" Hospital. There was a Code 4 on this feline accessory. The feline was released to Animal Regulation (see picture), no immediate threat. The woman backs up the officers, and understands the implementation of O.C.! One thing is for certain, neither one of these officers can ever be a sponsor for "Hello Kitty."

Best of luck to all in the year 2000. Just remember, everybody's faxing and modeming and onlining and inputting and downloading and overnighting. You can send anything to anybody, anywhere in the world in seconds. But it still takes the same time it always took to know a soul, to mend a broken heart, to give birth to a child. Even in a world of change, some things just don't. Be safe!

TRAFFIC TALK

by Eugene "The Taxman" Bedolla
South Traffic Division

Greetings amigos, welcome to the 21st century. The doomsayers apparently checked out the wrong Web site. All is well in the land of paradise (aka Los Angeles). I believe the most difficult thing about Y2K is getting used to writing "00" on checks and other documents.

Christmas Extravaganza Party

On December 3, 1999, South Traffic Division hosted our annual Christmas holiday party. It had all the fixin's for a great time. The Los Angeles Marriott Hotel accommodations were festive and becoming of a formal holiday affair. The food was exceedingly delicious and plentiful. All in attendance were lookin' good (see evidence photo). Gifts were dished out by the bushel to many fortunate people. But did anyone get the license plate number of the comedian who provided us with laughs that would not quit? Whew. She picked at and poked fun at (all good natured, of course) almost everyone in attendance. All in all, it was just the right way to celebrate the last party of the 20th century. Thanks to all who put in their time and efforts to allow all of us to be so very well entertained.

Doing the Right Thing

STD would like to recognize two of its finest officers. On 11/10/99, at approximately 1700 hours, Officer Covarrubias and Officer Hallauer were enroute to a T/C. Driving southbound on Normandie Ave. at 149th St. the officers were flagged down by two juveniles obviously troubled. The juveniles directed the officers to a vehicle with an adult female and a 14-year-old female. The officers observed the 14-year-old appeared to be passed out. Officer Hallauer immediately notified Communications to have an RAU respond. Without hesitation, Officer Covarrubias made a quick medical assessment. No vital signs were apparent and the officers began CPR in an attempt to save the young girl's life. During this life-saving attempt, fluid from the 14-year-old made contact with the officers. An RAU arrived and took over the rescue and transported the young girl where she was unfortunately pronounced dead. These officers made a decision. Some would say that they placed themselves in a position of possibly acquiring a communicable disease. They focused on a life and made a decision. Now, what would you have done? I commend the officers for their decisiveness. As a reminder please carry on your person a CPR resuscitator mask.

Sports

We at South Traffic have always considered ourselves small in numbers but mighty in spirit. For the past few years, STD has fielded a basketball team that would not quit when the chips were down but were usually (like almost always) on the shorter end of the score. Well, this is a new century. I will be bold and brash and say that STD is the team to beat in the "C" League. Bring it on because it is now show time for STD.

Baker to Vegas is a few months off but the war room for the 2000 STD Straddlers is open and plans are in the making to field a mug-winning team. Watch out because that runner coming up from behind to pass you may very well be a Straddler!

Final Thoughts

As always, don't forget your fellow officers who are sick, ill or injured. Give them a call. Finally, motors keep the rubber side down and CI keep the light bar off the pavement.

All R-Round Town

Metropolitan Division

Greetings from the hub. Happy 1st Sweetheart's Day of the 21st century! Here's a bit of the latest around these parts.

Up/Out

Congratulations to former A Pltn element member Jeff Wenninger. Jeff is going over to the other side, supervision that is. Sgt. Wenninger's new home will be Rampart. Good luck, Jeff.

Incoming

Welcome to our new element members. Being out of the loop at deadline time, I am not privy to platoon assignments. Soon to be seen around here are Bruce Adam, Don Merle Anderson, Jr. (yes, that's correct, Jr.), Mark Garza, and Martin Tennison.

Platoon Movement

Congratulations to the former K9-50 Alex Rodriguez. Alex is making the move over to room 225 as the new 70-D. The squad leader vacancy is due to the upcoming retirement of the one and only "Boss Hogg" 20-D, Sgt. Gil Waldron. More on that later. Over in Georgia territory, a new platoon is forming ranks and will be headed by the former R-10, Lt. Steve LaRoche. In the 20-G spot is Sgt. Don Schwarzer followed by Jerry Tomic and Ernie Haleck. At press time, element members were still being determined.

Meanwhile, Back at the Barn ...

Back in '99, around September, we bid farewell to two very fine policemen, who combined, devoted 59 years to the city of Los Angeles. Old SWAT Dogs turned cowboys, John McCrossen (7-67) and Randy Walker (4-72) pulled the pin and are enjoying the good life of retirement. John trans-years and was one of the original runners on the Death Valley Relay, and the rest, as you know, is history. Randy racked up 15 years in D team and has had great success calling the cops. During his last 11 years, John stood tall as one of the Metro Calvary's finest. The two horsemen made a quiet exit E-platoon style with an old-fashioned steak fry in Griffith Park that brought out some old familiar faces—Jeff Rogers, Bruce Hoover, Bobby Brannon, Dave Mowry, Les John, and Curtis Wilson just to name a few. Gentlemen, thank you, and sincere wishes for happiness in your future endeavors.

Chip off the ol' Block. Steve Beidle & son Tommy (P-1 West Valley), Academy Graduation.

In October, 1999, keeping with the rich Metro spirit of competition, Calvary members Ronnie Daniels, Al Lopez, Joe "Nepo" Nepomuceno, Chris Amador, Jimmie Barlow, Kevin Brawner, Bob Valdez and Joe Delorenzo competed in the Hi-Tech Adventure Race National Championships at Castaic Lake. Three-person teams from all over the U.S. participated in the event that was televised on the Fox sports channel. Requirements mandated all teammates finish together with no outside assistance. The grueling event consisted of a land navigation course, 12-mile mountain bike race, 2.5-mile kayak race, 8-mile (night) mountain run, mud pit, 20-foot Crisco wall, a balance beam course and the crossing of a cargo net with 20 pound sandbags. Congratulations, guys!

Special Delivery

Happy sweetheart's day to Santa and the boys. You guys truly have hearts of gold and your thoughtfulness most definitely touched my heart. Thank you McGyver, V.C. (Jim), Kev, K.B., Jay, Bri, Naga, Blaine, Marty, Grandpa, Mark, Dave, Hag, Don and Stev-o. XOXO

Eastern Horizon

Hollenbeck Division

Happy February 2000, everyone. First, allow me to apologize for failing to submit a January article. Next, allow me to wish you and your loved ones a belated Happy New Year. May you have a wonderful year full of all the successes life may offer.

In Memoriam

It has been two years since the untimely and tragic death of Hollenbeck Officer Steve Gajda. During Police Memorial Week ceremonies, May, 1999, Steve's name was added to the Wall of Honor in Sacramento. The wall, dedicated to honor those Police Officers killed in the line of duty, stands as testimony that the ultimate price can be paid while serving the community. The ceremony, attended by many Law Enforcement Officers from various agencies, including our very own Sgt. Rob Holroyd, was a very emotional experience for those present.

On New Year's Eve, 1999, which marked the second anniversary, to date, of Steve's passing, Hollenbeck officers assembled in front of Hollenbeck Station to recite a prayer in honor of Steve. The short prayer, presided over by Department Chaplain Costello, was accomplished next to "Steve's" tree, which was planted in his honor, shortly after his death. Steve, you are still missed and will never be forgotten.

Retirement Announcements

It seems that 20 is enough for our friend Phil "fishbelly" Moriel. Phil has pulled the plug and is now back in the civilian world. My only question now that Phil is gone: Who is going to outfit us with the latest Hollenbeck garb?

Also looking for greener pastures and retiring is Senior Lead Officer Donna Norton, who also joins the civilian ranks.

A Hollenbeck So-Long to both of you and we wish you the best of luck in the future. Thanks for all your hard work while assigned to Hollenbeck Division.

Engagement Announcement

I offer my most sincere congratulations to my good friends, a favorite couple of mine, Officers Chris "Jughead" Ramirez and Brenda Behrens. It seems that on November 12, 1999, at a Pasadena restaurant called "Mi Piacere," Chris decided to pop the question and Brenda said yes.

The happy couple will be hearing wedding bells in the very near future.

The happy couple is planning to unite as one, sometime during the month of September, exact date and location yet to be decided. Brenda and Chris, congratulations on your engagement and I wish you both a lifetime of happiness and total bliss.

...and Speaking of Chris

I also wish to congratulate Chris Ramirez on his recent promotion to Senior Lead Officer. Gosh, two winning hands in one year, what a lucky guy. Chris is now fulfilling his dream of being a Senior Lead Officer and a rising star at Rampart Division. Chris, congratulations on your promotion as well as on your engagement. See you at the wedding.

Baby News

This month I have three new births to tell you about. The first one involves Officer Evelyn Gutierrez. Evelyn gave birth to a beautiful baby girl on November 27, 1999. Little Ashley Johnae arrived at precisely 0434 hours and weighed in at a healthy 8 pounds, 4 ounces. Mother and child are home and doing just fine.

The next baby comes via Officer Dominic Counts. Dominic's lovely lady, Vy, presented Dominic with a bouncing baby boy by the name of Vincente. Little Vincente came into this world on January 5, 2000, at 3:08 p.m. and weighed in at 7 pounds while measuring 20 inches in length. Dominic is extremely proud of his first little bundle of joy.

Next, but certainly not least, we must congratulate Officer Robert Farias and his lovely wife who also added a tax deduction. Baby Ryan Nicholas Farias arrived on December 30, 1999, weighing in at 7 pounds, 10 ounces, and measuring 20 inches in length. Little Ryan is doing fine while Robert is home doing some bonding with his new family member.

Congratulations to all of you on your new family additions, and we wish you all a long, healthy and happy life.

Movin' On Up

Congratulations go out to some fine Hollenbeck officers as they move up the ladder of success by being promoted to Training Officers. Congrats and good luck to Officers Candice "Sweet Candy" Hensley, Gustavo Camacho, and Danny Rios. Wish you much success in your new assignments. We also congratulate and bid farewell to Clerk Typist Bertha Flores who promoted to Senior Clerk Typist and is now assigned to CTD.

Baker to Vegas

The annual Baker to Vegas Challenge Cup Relay is just around the corner and we are in need of support personnel to volunteer your time. See Austin "Kermit the Frog" Fernald in the SLO office.

Welcome

A great big Hollenbeck welcome is extended to Sgt. R. Davis, coming to us from Wilshire Division. We also have a number of working police officers joining our ranks. They are R. Guerrero and J. Mendoza in from Harbor; J. Edson, F. Lopez and J. Ojeda, joining us from Southeast; J. Lopez, Southwest; A. Skiver, Wilshire; and F. Maccias, moving east from West L.A. Division. We have three brand new recruits to be trained by Hollenbeck's great Training Officers. Please welcome P-Is R. Bellows, P. Miller, and L. Leong, in from Chavez Ravine. A belated welcome also goes to out lovely Mid-PM Watch PSR, Lupe De La Cruz, who has been manning the ACC for the past three months.

So Long

We bid farewell to M. Segura, who promoted to P-3 and is now assigned to Southwest Division. We also say goodbye to Caprice Kirpatrick, who got off probation and promptly resigned from the Department. Although I am told she will remain with us as a Reserve Officer, which is a great thing to hear, because to lose her all together would be a great loss to the Department. One of the loveliest police officers to come through Hollenbeck, Brandy "Buffy" Danielson, is now at North Hollywood, while Ted "Tech Support" Jara is now patrolling the streets of Southwest. Ryan Whiteman is also serving the citizens of Southwest while Joe Fleming and Michelle Perry are now chasing buses at TBD. P-2 Gordon Helper went kicking and screaming to Wilshire Division joined by Mike Todd, Noel Flamenco and Chun Yim are now both at West Los Angeles Division.

Que Paso?

This month's salute goes out to my good buddy, Doug "The Shadow" Pierce. I guess PSR De La Cruz will never get a sunburn.

LAPRAAC Sports Roundup

by Lew Snow
LAPRAAC Sports Editor

The much-feared new millennium has come and gone, and despite the fears of terrorism, Armageddon and widespread computer breakdowns, it seems we're all still here. Yours truly experienced a real live Y2K glitch when the old IBM 486-clone upon which these words are typed displayed the date 1/3/80 when it was booted up. The non-billion dollar repair? Went into DOS and reset the clock. Problem solved!

There are a number of important meetings and events coming up in the next few months. In the paragraphs that follow you'll find some information about them. Most importantly there are names and contact numbers for each of them. If you or your station are interested in participating, be sure to pick up the phone (yes, they're still working) and RSVP. The LAPRAAC/LAPD sports programs only exist if you participate!

Intra-Department Softball Team Captains' Meeting

Come enjoy the fun, exercise, camaraderie and competition as 2000 league play starts up in April. Defending champion West Valley will be looking to keep the Red Davis Trophy north of Mulholland Drive for the second consecutive year.

The first team captains' meeting of the new century (lookie-loos trying to decide whether to field a squad are definitely invited) will be held Thursday, February 24, 1130-1400 in the Elysian Park Academy Lounge. This is one of the few times there really is a "free" lunch, so an RSVP to Athletic Dept. Secretary Jeanne Schwab at (323) 221-5222, ext. 218 is a must.

By our publication date, flyers should have gone out to all previous team captains and to all Divisions for posting. Rules, fees and team requirements will be discussed at the meeting.

Orientation Meeting for Freestyle Wrestling

If you are interested in participating in freestyle wrestling this season, an orientation meeting will be held Tuesday, February 22, 2000 hours in the Mat Room at the Westchester Academy. Individuals who want more information about the wrestling program are encouraged to attend the meeting or e-mail Mike Smerdel (serial #32229) at Southwest Division.

LAPRAAC/LAPD Golf Tournament Set Friday, March 10

The next in a series of bimonthly LAPRAAC/LAPD Golf Tournaments will be held Friday, March 10, at Harding Golf Course in Griffith Park. Tee-off is 0900 hours at a cost of $45, which includes green fees, cart and prizes for longest drive, closest to the pin, etc.

Call Jeanne Schwab at (323) 221-5222, ext. 218 to reserve your tee time. It is preferred that fees be paid in advance. However, arrangements can be made for payment on tournament day only if you call Jeanne in advance. Please make reservations as early as possible so the number of participants can be confirmed with the golf course. Last minute reservations (or, worse yet, showing up unannounced) can create havoc for the other participants.

Can Anyone Beat the Millennium Pigs?

That's right . . . starting this year it's the California Police and Fire Games. Competition is expected to be tense as hoses from throughout the state will participate for the first time ever! The Y2K CPFG will be held June 25-July 1 at various venues in nearby San Bernardino County. If you wish to participate or have questions regarding the Games, please contact LAPD Athletic Director Tony Adler at (323) 221-5222, ext. 218.

Twenty-Second Annual Memorial Run and Relay

This tribute to those who have made the ultimate sacrifice to "protect and serve" the citizens of Los Angeles is scheduled to be held on Saturday, May 13. Location for the race has not been finalized as of our press deadline but one of the places under consideration includes Dockweiler Beach in Playa del Rey, which has hosted the race the past couple of years.

Please mark this date on your calendars and hold the day open for what again will be a family event. More information about the final location, times, and how to register will appear in the next issue of The Thin Blue Line.

We Want Your Articles for "Sports Beat"

If you compete in an LAPD sport and wonder why you never see anything about it in The Thin Blue Line, then it's time to take the bull by the horns! Let us help you publicize your sport or event, boost morale, and give those participating and excelling the recognition they deserve by submitting an article to us for publication.

It's very easy—just fax your articles to (818) 957-4275 or e-mail them to lewssnow@aol.com. It doesn't matter if you're Joe Wambaugh or Joe Schmo. Even if you just send notes from which to work, we can transform that material into an article that will get the information across. If we get your articles by the fifth of the month every effort will be made to include it in the next issue of The Thin Blue Line. Photographs are welcome, too. Indicate on your fax or e-mail you have photos and we will contact you.

Baker to Vegas Challenge Cup Relay to Celebrate its Sweet 16th in Y2K

A big change is in store for the 16th edition of the Baker to Vegas Challenge Cup Relay coming up this April 15-16. As in previous years 200 or more teams of 20 runners will start out approximately 19 miles north of the desert hamlet of Baker, home of the Bun Boy and the world's largest thermometer. And, as in the past, these stalwart individuals will run the 120 miles through desert and mountain terrain from Baker to Shoshone to Pahrump to the Tropicana Hotel on the south end of the Las Vegas Strip.

But this will be the first year that the desert heat should not be a factor in the race. In a compromise that will allow Highway 127 between Baker and Shoshone to be closed during the race, the traditional starting time structure has been significantly altered. Instead of runners taking off every hour on the hour from 1200 to 1700 there will be only three starts: 1800 (for the slower teams), 2100 and 2130.

The hot desert afternoon, which sometimes saw temperatures rise above 110 degrees, will no longer affect the early runners.

All runners should be out of the desert and into the mountains long before the sun comes up. This is expected to result in a much faster race (putting into serious jeopardy Air Support/Training Division's record time of 12:41:29 set in 1996).

In addition, the later start will make the finish of the race more accessible to normal risers. Instead of the traditional before sunup finish (around 0330 hours) which was poorly attended due to the early hour the first runner is expected to make his way up the Strip and cross the finish at the Tropicana around 0930. The last stragglers should be in by 1600.

To accommodate the later start, the Awards Ceremony, to be held at the Rio Suites and Convention Center on the west side of Las Vegas, will begin at 1900 on Sunday, April 16. Every team will receive a commemorative plaque noting their finish place and the top team in each category will receive a trophy and commemorative mugs. The overall champions will be awarded handmade sterling silver buckles plus gain custody of the Baker to Vegas Challenge Cup Perpetual Trophy for the next year.

Also new this year is an effort to give something back to the faculty and students of Baker High School, and the people of Baker, who have wholeheartedly supported the race since its inception in 1984.

"We want every runner to bring with them (to the race) a new children's book meant for someone in grade K-12," said Race Coordinator Chuck Foote (LAPD ret.). "The community of Baker has been wonderful to us for the last 16 years. It is our goal to add 4,000 books to the library at Baker High School on race day."

"What better way to repay the hospitality shown by everyone in Baker than to make a massive donation to the education of the children in their community," added co-Coordinator Larry Moore (LAPD ret.).

We'll have more on the Y2K Baker to Vegas Relay in next month's issue. For further information on the race contact Athletic Secretary Agnes Miranda at (323) 221-5222, ext. 219, or log onto www.bakervegas.com.

LAPD Motocross Team

by Rich Swisher

The national rankings are in, and LAPD's LAPRAAC/FMF/Troy Lee Designs/Zing Graphics/BELL Helmets Motocross team scored well. Five of our racers finished well enough over the 1999 Fire and Police MX Nationals series to earn top 100 national ranking numbers. Officer Rich Swisher, additionally sponsored by SPY and Moto West, is our highest ranking at #34, next is Officer Mike Kilpatrick, #46 (LAPRAAC Senior Athlete of the Year), followed by Officer Rob Cosner, #60, Sgt. Ken Koch, #70, and not last, not least, Officer Rob Plourde, #84. These numbers show the racers overall ranking against ALL police officers and fire fighters in the nation, in any racing class for the entire year. If you happen to see one of these guys around town make sure you congratulate them, and then promptly give them some crap about something else so they don't get too big-headed for their new BELL helmets. 1999 was our team's set-up year and we made some positive progress. But Y2K is sizing up to be the year of the Getto Cop in the world of Motocross. Officer Paul Menchaca is racing his 2000 FMF Honda CR250 in the California. He won his last five races and in one race ended up second overall. Rob has secured a championship for the 1999 District 37 Off-Road racing season, and will graduate to the Expert/Pro class within the next few months. Our team has some newcomers that we are excited to have around. Sixty-year-old retiree and extreme sports maniac Dick Postma has lined up to

His first moto of the season went well with a 7th place ride, but in the second moto while running second, he was clipped in a corner and his back was used as traction by several friendly competitors. The man of the year for our racing effort would have to be Officer Rob Plourde though. Rob has been racing nearly every weekend at some desert race, a cross country, a Grand Prix, or basically wherever and whenever anyone says they can go faster than him in the state of (dpostma@qnet.com) and see for yourself. Inland Blue Line

by Loyd Yandle

Well the millennium has come and gone and we all are still here. The end of the earth did not come, as some claimed it would. The computers did not all go wacky as some claimed they would. It turned out to be a news media hype. And it did sell papers and lots of people stayed glued to the boob-tube.

I have to get this in by the 6th of the month in order for it to come out in February's paper. Naturally it will be before the luncheon, which was January 12, 2000. As of this writing, only 62 have sent in their reservations, and since this is only January 3rd, I imagine we will have at least 20 more, making it 82. It will be the smallest crowd we have had since April 14, 1983, which was our first luncheon and start of the Inland Blue Line.

I finally got a hold of Chief Daryl Gates. He called me and apologized for not being able to be guest speaker at the January 12th luncheon but said he would try and make one at a later date. He already had a commitment on January 12th.

Now for an update on Beverly, and I must say what has happened to her has been a nightmare. On November 18 she had a quadruple bypass which turned out perfect. On November 22 she suffered a massive stroke. On December 4 I discovered that she had not been properly cared for which resulted in numerous bed sores which had not been properly treated. On December 8 she suffered a cardiac arrest. On December 20 she suffered a massive seizure and had to be put back on the ventilator. On December 23 they moved her to a special hospital in Ontario for pulmonary and physical therapy. A small wound in her leg became infected and doctors would have to operate on Beverly's leg on Monday a.m. The doctor says there is a 50/50 chance that he can save the leg. I spend from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the hospital, some 132 miles round trip, return all calls for the day, get to bed at 11:00 p.m., up again at 5:00 a.m., and do it all over again. Thanks for all the letters and calls and prayers. Couldn't have gotten this far without them. If Beverly could talk, I know she would want to thank you all personally. Maybe some day, God willing.

The next meeting and luncheon of Inland Blue Line will be Wednesday, April 12th. I should be able to know if Chief Gates will attend. I sure hope so.

Keep up the good work. Can't get along without it. And believe me it really is a jungle out there. Those drivers are crazy, so be careful. God help you if any of you have to go to a hospital. We have been to two of the top of the list and look what happened to Beverly. She sure doesn't deserve it. Bye for now and God bless!

P.S. For all you former detectives, yes, I documented everything, hour by hour and day by day, since December 1 when the nightmare started. I have some 127 pages and two rolls of pictures, plus all names and places. I even marked evidence. When I showed them where I had marked the evidence, a nurse asked sarcastically, "What are you, a policeman?" My answer, "Matter of fact, I was, ma'am!"

Old Blue Running Team

by Neil Parker

For better or worse, it seems like most of us took Y2K in stride and had a great time. Locally, Old Blue has been taking practice in stride since we won the title in our category at the second running of the 120-mile Law Enforcement Scorpion Relay Race from Laughlin to Las Vegas. It was a great day for racing and all concerned ran some pretty good legs. The attached pictures from the race are through the courtesy of "Long Distance Running for Seniors" and team member Dale Sprinkle. Naw, just kidding. These are Dale's pictures and he was kind enough to let us use them to illustrate some of our runners' abilities. Pretty amazing when you see the team in a race, to realize that about the only thing that most coppers ran for years port vehicle. So, tell me something . . . are these Old Blue cops in shape or what?

How's your team doin'? You and your running crew getting shaped up for the Baker to Vegas race on April 15 & 16? Figured that you were from what I read in the divisional columns in The Thin Blue Line. We're only about 75 days away now so keep on truckin' with your practice runs. Old Blue members like Chuck Foote finished among the top five in a recent Regional Elite Masters event. Dale Sprinkle came in second in his age group in a race in Fresno. Mel Sandvig and Bill Osuna ran a couple of the winner of Baker to Vegas for the last two years, the speedster cops from Metro-Red. Speaking of Vegas, don't forget to get your room reservations in NOW. The Rio Hotel is once again race headquarters and a great time is in store again this year. It really is an occasion for great camaraderie.

Did you notice on page 47 of the January Thin Blue Line a two-column love story entitled "Honoring My Wife, Beverly," as written by Loyd Yandle, Bev's husband. I thought my friend and certainly everyone's friend, Loyd, beautifully expressed a lifetime of shared moments and wonderful memories of a man and his wife. Tenderly refreshing and not an unwelcome change of pace from grand stories of heroes, glorious accomplishments and goals achieved, it reminds me, and I'm sure most readers, how precious but fleeting is this time that the Lord has bestowed upon us. For my part, I, like most of you, am going to honor Loyd's request in the third paragraph from the bottom of his column: please say a prayer for this cop's wonderful sweetheart. Amen.

P.S. The next meeting for Old Blue, or anyone interested in running with us, is on Sunday, February 27th at 8:00 a.m., rain or shine, at the B.B. Diamond behind the Park Rangers Station off of Crystal Springs Road. Exit the I-5 at the Griffith Park off ramp, R/T at the boulevard stop sign, about 1/2 mile to the Rangers station. Free breakfast for first timers. Note: That's first timers, not old timers!

marathons in San Jose and Santa Clarita. And all the rest of the team from Washington, Idaho and Utah to Northern California, Nevada and Arizona are keeping in top shape with participation in local races and/or just keeping up with their regular running routine. And if you're looking for a little extra expertise, then get yourself a copy of Coach Pat Connolly's famous book, Go the Distance. A local guy who graduated from Birmingham High School, Pat has been coaching for over 35 years. He's a member of Old Blue and has also coached a few LAPD teams including

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY
If you haven't bought a Valentine's Day card for your husband, or sweetie, or your call each other, it's about time!

As you know, SABA held annual Christmas luncheons at Webb's Sun City in Rossmoor, December 16, 1999. We had last minute cancellations. Happens during that time of year. My good friends Dave Wheeler had to bow out, and Sandovals couldn't make it. I understand that events happen maybe next time you can join us.

We did have a great time together for this one date during the Christmas season. The food was catered by the Diners, people, and there was plenty too. No one went hungry. As usual, our infamous Prez, Dyer, made sure that every member left with a Christmas gift. What a guy! Just like Santa without some major help from two favorite Christmas elves, Cindy Lewandowski.

During the luncheon, Ron & Marilyn Kiser were awarded a lifetime membership. Ron & Marilyn Kiser have served SABA for many years of service to SABA. They have opened their home and party every year in Sonoma, SABA's premier picnic and barbeque. If you've been there, you know what I'm saying is true. The first and only lifetime members ever awarded by SABA.

Ron was there to accept his award in Southern California and caring for the new daughter born December 1st. The baby's older sister was born on December 5th. Two daughters with the same birth date. Congratulations Ron & Marilyn.

Also at the Christmas luncheon, congratulations were given to Grace Powers, who were nearing their 63rd wedding anniversary. What a great accomplishment! What a great addition John has been, since joining our active group of exLAPDers!

Also a SABA service presented by Prez Dyer to him for his years of service to SABA as Secretary and Treasurer! A well-deserved award!

Holiday

Hal & Johnene White with Larry Meyer. I wish to get Larry to join SABA so he can get his resume down and known. He is, except that he too is an exLAPDer. Former SABA Prez and clubber Lew Ritter was there. Good! If he was there, where we missed you! Current lead and former Hollenbeck Division, Bob Rogers, came in and tried to blame his partner, Reed. Must have been the same.

The guys and gals from SABA were all in attendance. But all within walking distance, so for them was easy. Except who got out of a sick bed, wife, Lee, for the celebration. Get well, Hank!

But the rest—Charlie & Judy, Charlie and Carmen Long, Lew, Judy, and myself were

We had some last minute cancellations, but that happens during that time of the year. My good friends Dave & Edie Wheeler had to bow out, and the Joe Sandovals couldn't make it, but we understand that events happen, and maybe next time you can join us.

We did have a great time getting together for this one date during the Christmas season. The excellent food was catered by the Del Webb people, and there was plenty of it too. No one went hungry. As promised, our infamous Prez, Justin Dyer, made sure that every SABLA member left with a Christmas gift. What a guy! Just like Santa! But not without some major help from his two favorite Christmas elves, Ed & Cindy Lewandowski.

During the luncheon, SABLA awarded a lifetime membership to Ron & Marilyn Kiser for their years of service to SABLA. They have opened their home and property every year in Sonoma, to host SABLA's premier picnic and BBQ! If you've been there, you know what I'm saying is true. This is the first and only lifetime membership ever awarded by SABLA.

Ron was there to accept. Marilyn was in Southern California visiting and caring for the new granddaughter born December 5, 1999. The baby's older sister was also born on December 5th. Two granddaughters with the same birthdate! Congratulations Ron & Marilyn!

Also at the Christmas luncheon, congratulations were given to John & Grace Powers, who were near celebrating their 63rd wedding anniversary! What a great accomplishment! And what a great addition John Powers has been, since joining our accomplished group of exLAPDers!

Also a SABLA service award was presented by Prez Dyer to Hoy Key, for his years of service to SABLA as Secretary and Treasurer! A well-earned and well-deserved award! Congrats, Hoy!

Hal & Johnene White were there with Larry Meyer. I wish Hal would get Larry to join SABLA so we'd have his resume down and know who Larry is, except that he too is an exLAPDer! Former SABLA Prez and charter member Lew Ritter was there—looking good! If he was there, where were you? We missed you! Current lottery agent and former Hollenbeck Division stand-out, Bob Rogers, came in a little late and tried to blame his partner, Nancy Reed. Must have been the season!

The guys and gals from Sun City were all in attendance. But all of them live within walking distance, so attendance for them was easy. Except Hank Seret who got out of a sick bed to bring his wife, Lee, for the celebration. Whatta guy! Get well, Hank!

But the rest—Charlie & Joan Blogin, Charlie and Carmen Long, the Whites, Judy, and myself were there to see you. Hope we didn't miss you! Down from Graeagle was George & Harriet Conroy. In from Napa with my Christmas gift was Bob Tucker. What an array of police and fire gift items he has to offer! Give Bob a call if you're stuck for a gift idea! All the way from Red Bluff were the Heins—Bill, my Academy classmate, and his wife, Barbara, to celebrate the holiday. No party would be complete without another former SABLA Prez, Carl Kuehn and wife, Ellie. Former motor officers Chuck Ward and Bill Wilhelm with wife, Ruby Dee, were there to celebrate—whatever! Bob & Betty Devin were down the hill from Auburn, and Roy & LaDonna Kerton were up the road from Elk Grove. Our guys and gals come here from all over the SABLA area! One member who is always here but missed was Bob Totans from up in Willows. As reported last month, Bob fell and broke his pelvis. He's recovering at last word and doing OK. If you know Bob, send him a card or make a phone call.

More photos will be up next month of the group including Nate Iannone, Ray Lauritzen and others from the same Academy class. Tony Baldassano was at our table in good Christmas spirit—non-alcohol though! Tony is still a security supervisor at the lottery.

Abe & Betty Miles, Jack & DeRhonda Smith and Jim Byrd were there. Did we miss you? One of my "old" 77th partners, Bob Sharrett, came by, as did our SABLA regulars, Bill & Muriel McMonagle, down from Colfax!

As a finale, a prize of one of the tabletop poinsettias was awarded to anyone who had a $100 bill on them. Guess who had one? Maybe more than one?? None other than Ken Carlsted! I'll bet his wife, Joan, could've used that for Christmas shopping!

That takes care of our Christmas luncheon and get-together! At SABLA we sincerely hope that your Christmas was cheerful and happy with a bright outlook for the new year 2000!

We were supposed to see Art Sjoquist, the Department historian, at our November luncheon as a guest speaker. But at the last moment Art had to cancel and ask for a "rain check." So we'll have to set a new date for Art to bring his slide show to see the newly proposed Police Museum. So keep those second Thursdays of the month open. You don't want to miss that one.

And while we're on the Thursday luncheon subject, beginning this month, we have a new banquet/catering chairman! None other than Ed Lewandowski! So call Ed at (916) 445-4710 or (530) 626-4248 and tell him your food choice between chicken, veal or cobb salad. If Ed's not there, leave a message. Hoy Key has retired from that job! So call Ed each month to let him know you're coming on or before Tuesday of that week.

Come break bread with us February 10th. Tell a story. Have a beer or glass of wine. A "shooter" if you want! We start at 1130 hours, Palomino Room, Watt & El Camino in Sacramento.

If you can't make it to one of our monthly luncheons, write to us at P.O. Box 60353, Sacramento, CA 95860-0353. We'll find somebody who remembered to bring their reading glasses and your letter will be read to all! Don't forget that Valentine!!

Be good to each other out there. We need and love each and every one of you.

The Central Coast "Fuzz That Wuzz"

by Dave Aikins

A Note of Thanks

Our Christmas party was held last December at the Madonna Inn, in San Luis Obispo. The Madonna Inn is always beautifully decorated during the holidays and is a sight to behold. The raffle prizes were top rate and the entertainment from the award winning San Luis Obispo High School Stage Choir was outstanding. There was a real feeling of warmth and friendship among the members as we celebrated the Christmas Holiday. All of this was not by accident. Our leadership is top rate. Brian Galbraith and wife Kathy put in an enormous amount of effort as did Sam and Paulette Lopez. They made all the arrangements and bought all the neat gifts while the rest of us screamed and yelled when our number was not called at the raffle. Several people won twice and turned in their second ticket and gave up valuable gifts so someone else could win. Is that class or what?

Speaking of class, Tom & Dorie Zwinger put together a super photo album of the Fuzz that Wuzz past activities. It is magnificent. Tom is the guy sneaking around taking all the neat pictures and Dorie obviously has the artistic talent.

Paulette Lopez put together some excellent photos of old time LAPD badges that I will try to get into the computer to show off in the future.

Anyway, a special thanks to all of those who helped put all the events together last year. They are a great bunch of people. The best to all of you from the Fuzz gang.
